This report was prepared in the Income, Finance, and Wealth Branch by the Individual Income Statistics Staff under the direction of Jack Blacksin.

The procedures for sampling, processing, and reviewing the data were developed by other branches of the Statistics Division. Statistical abstracting of the data was done by the Service Centers at Andover, Massachusetts; Austin, Texas; Chamblee, Georgia; Covington, Kentucky; Kansas City, Missouri; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and Ogden, Utah. The Data Center at Detroit, Michigan designed and conducted the computer processing.

Treasury Department,
Office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue,
Washington, D. C., August 27, 1971.

Dear Mr. Secretary:

We are transmitting the complete report, Statistics of Income--1969, Individual Income Tax Returns. This report was prepared in partial fulfillment of the requirements of section 6108 of the Internal Revenue Code, which prescribes that statistics be published annually with respect to the operation of the income tax law.

This Statistics of Income publication is based on data from a sample drawn from the over 75 million individual income tax returns filed during calendar year 1970. Included in the report is information on a full year of operation of the income tax surcharge imposed April 1, 1968. Information from the Wage and Tax Statements (Form W-2) attached to the individual income tax returns is included for the first time. Other subjects covered include patterns of income reported on returns, characteristics of returns with farm income, types of deductions, and size of tax by size of income.

This report also features data presented biennially for the 125 largest standard metropolitan statistical areas in the Nation, in addition to annual information for States and regions.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Hon. John B. Connally,
Secretary of the Treasury.

The data presented for individual income tax returns are estimates based on a stratified sample of Form 1040 returns, and represent coverage of all individual tax returns filed by the Nation's taxpayers for income year 1969.

To facilitate its use, this report is organized in ten sections. Each of the first five sections includes text, text tables, and charts, followed by detailed basic tables. A table of contents is provided at the front of each of these sections to permit easy reference to material in that section.

Section 6 contains an explanation of the classifications and terms used in this report. The sources and limitations of data and return-sampling procedures are described in section 7. Historical data covering comparable income and tax data for income years 1960 through 1969 are presented in section 8. Reproduction of the 1969 tax forms and instructions (section 9) and an index (section 10) are provided to further aid readers in using and understanding the data.

The Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, provides the legal basis for tax activity detailed in this report. Amendments affecting data for 1969 include provisions for:

(1) The extension of the 10 percent income tax surcharge to cover all of calendar year 1969.

(2) The termination, as of April 19, 1969, of the investment credit except that (a) the termination did not apply to property which the taxpayer was obligated to construct pursuant to a binding contract in effect prior to the termination date and (b) it continued to be allowed, within limitations, on unused credits carried over from prior year investments.

Where appropriate, these changes in the tax law are explained in the text of this report.

In addition to statistical data reflecting changes in the law, tables present new information including:

(1) Returns of married taxpayers filing separately,

(2) Income and tax statement from Form W-2,

(3) Sources of income and tax items for all returns with farm income or loss,

(4) Sex of taxpayer,

(5) Selected items for returns with minimum standard deduction or 10 percent standard deduction,

(6) Size of tax by adjusted gross income classes,

(7) Characteristics of joint returns with both taxpayers age 65 or over,

(8) State data by marital status.

TAXPAYERS' INCOME EXCEEDED $600 BILLION

Taxpayers' adjusted gross income reported on their 1969 individual returns totaled $603.5 billion, increasing by $49.1 billion or 8.9 percent over 1968. Table 1A and chart 1A show that most of the major sources of income except net gain from sales of capital assets and net income from rents and royalties increased over 1968 levels. Capital gains registered a sharp drop of 18.9 percent, contrasting markedly with the 31.5 percent increase for 1968 over 1967.

Income tax liability of individuals, labelled "income tax after credits" in table 1A and chart 1B, totaled $86.6 billion for 1969. This was $10.0 billion or 13 percent more than the comparable figure for 1968 and was the second largest single-year increase since the enactment of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954. The increase in tax liability was associated with three important developments delineated in chart 1B: (1) an increase of 3 percent in returns filed, (2) an increase of 9 percent in adjusted gross income, and (3) the extension of the surcharge on income tax before credits to cover the whole of calendar year 1969.

A 49 percent increase in the surcharge was attributable not only to the increase in income tax before credits to which the surcharge was applied but also to the imposition of the surcharge at the 10 percent rate for the full year. For 1968, the 10 percent surcharge was in effect for only the last 9 months of the year amounting, in effect, to a 7.5 percent surcharge. For 1969, the surcharge totaled $7.7 billion. This was less than 10 percent based on the income tax before credits shown throughout this report, partly because only 52.3 million of the 64.2 million returns with tax before credits showed the amount of the surcharge. The smaller number and also the smaller amount resulted from the

LOW-INCOME TAXPAYERS MADE INCREASED USE OF HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD AND SURVIVING SPOUSE TAX RATES

The total number of returns filed increased by 2.8 percent from 1968 to 1969. The increase was due entirely to returns with adjusted gross income of $10,000 or more; returns with income under $5,000 and those with income of $5,000 under $10,000 decreased by 1.6 percent and 2.8 percent, respectively. Chart 1C shows that the number of returns with income under $5,000 declined steadily during the 1960's, while returns with income of $10,000 or more were increasing; the number of returns with income of $5,000 or more increased from 1960 to 1966 then decreased from 1966 to 1969.

Table 1B shows that, for 1969, returns filed by heads of households and surviving spouses did not follow the general trend. In contrast to the moderate, 2.8 percent, increase for all returns, head of household returns increased by 20.2 percent and surviving spouse returns by 27.7 percent. Moreover, the increase was concentrated among returns with income under $5,000, whereas the number of returns for every other marital status group in that income class declined.

Filing as head of household or surviving spouse afforded special tax benefits to the unmarried (widowed or divorced) taxpayer who was maintaining a household for his or her children. Neither marital status could be claimed on the short punchcard Form 1040A, used through tax year 1968, so that a low-income person eligible to file as head of household or surviving spouse may not have done so because he chose to use Form 1040A. For 1969, with only one tax form available, many of these taxpayers may have made use of this more beneficial tax computation.

MARRIED PERSONS FILED SEPARATE RETURNS MAINLY WHEN BOTH SPOUSES HAD INCOME

When a separate return was filed by a married person who wished to file independently of his spouse, each spouse reported his own income, exemptions, deductions, and tax. In certain cases, a married taxpayer used this filing method even though his spouse earned no income, and he was thus entitled to claim an exemption for both himself and his spouse. By filing separately, the taxpayer became solely liable for any tax due on his return, and solely eligible to receive any refunds. However, unless his taxable income was under $500, he ended up being taxed at a higher rate than if he had elected joint return filing status.

For the first time, on the 1969 Form 1040, the taxpayer filing a separate return was supposed to check a special box to indicate whether or not his spouse was also filing. Table 1C shows that of the 2.7 million returns of married persons filing separately for 1969, only 0.4 million indicated that the spouse was not also filing.

PATTERNS OF INCOME VIRTUALLY UNCHANGED OVER 2-YEAR PERIOD

In classifying a return for patterns of income tables, each source of income reported was classified as belonging to one of four categories. The four categories used in classifying the returns were salaries and wages, business income, income from sales of property, and all other income (mainly from investments).

As shown in table 1D, somewhat more than half of all returns for 1969 showed only one category of income, and, as expected, in the vast majority of cases it was salaries and wages. Roughly one-third of the returns showed two categories of income and these usually included salaries and wages and "all other income," which encompasses interest and dividends. Table 1.11 presents data for each of the fifteen combinations of one to four categories of income. It shows virtually no change in the percentage distribution of returns over the fifteen patterns of income since 1967, the last year for which such data were presented.

NONTAXABLE RETURNS

Characteristics of nontaxable returns are summarized in table 1E. About one of every six returns was nontaxable, that is, the returns showed no income tax after credits for 1969. About 97 percent of these returns indicated adjusted gross income under $5,000. The dollar amount of exemptions on nontaxable returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000 exceeded the adjusted gross income, indicating that many of these lower income taxpayers had less than $600 of income for each exemption to which they were entitled.

Table 1E also shows that, for taxpayers with income of $15,000 or more who paid no income tax, total deductions exceeded adjusted gross income. Some taxpayers reported deductions in excess of their income in order to qualify for the charitable contribution carryover. The carryover provision allowed taxpayers to "use up" in any of the 5 succeeding years that portion of their contributions to certain charitable institutions which could not be deducted in the current year, provided they were within the percentage ceiling limitation for each year.

More detailed information on nontaxable returns is shown in basic table 1.9. It shows that the 12.1 million nontaxable returns consisted of 0.5 million returns with no adjusted gross income, 11.2 million returns with positive adjusted gross income which was fully offset by personal deductions and exemptions, and 0.5 million returns with taxable income but with the tax offset by credits. Tax credits included those granted on retirement income for certain types of investments, and for taxes paid to foreign governments.

While nearly all nontaxable returns showed modest levels of income, there were also 745 returns that showed adjusted gross income of $100,000 or more. Total adjusted gross income on these high income returns amounted to $338.0 million. The major reason for their nontaxability was the $432.1 million of personal deductions reported. Data published for tax year 1968, the last year for which we tabulated deductions by type, revealed that over half these deductions resulted from contributions to charitable, religious, and educational organizations. Personal exemptions totaled $1.6 million for 1969. Only $295.9 million of these deductions and exemptions were subtracted from adjusted gross income in the computation of taxable income. The amount left over was in excess of adjusted gross income and could not be used (although some of the charitable contributions in excess of income may have been carried over and used in a later year). After deduction of these amounts, 655 of these high-income returns had no taxable income and 90 had taxable income of $42.1 million in aggregate.

On the 90 nontaxable returns with taxable income, income tax before credits of nearly $27.8 million was assessed as well as the additional surcharge which totaled $2.8 million. These assessments were, however, more than offset by $30.7 million of statutory tax credits, of which the major type, the credit for tax paid to a foreign government, amounted to $29.2 million.

DIVIDENDS ON 4.5 MILLION RETURNS TAX FREE

Each taxpayer may have been eligible to exclude up to $100 of his dividend income in computing adjusted gross income. The logic for this preferential treatment was that dividends represented the profits of U.S. corporations that had already been taxed at the corporate level. Dividends from foreign corporations were not eligible for the exclusion. In the case of a husband and wife filing a joint return, each spouse could exclude up to $100 of eligible dividends.

Table 1F shows that $1.2 billion of the $16.9 billion of dividends reported on tax returns were excluded from adjusted gross income. Of the 12.2 million taxpayers reporting such income, 4.5 million excluded the entire amount, indicating that their total dividend income was less than the allowable exclusion.

W-2 WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT PROVIDED

Tabulations of items shown on Form W-2, the wage and tax statement supplied by the employer, are included in this report.

Table 1.19 shows that 130.3 million Forms W-2 were attached to 66.7 million returns, an average of two per return. Thirty-two million returns, or 48 percent, had one Form W-2 attached to the return. About 19.5 million returns, or 29 percent, had two Forms W-2 and the remaining returns, 15.2 million--23 percent of the total--had three or more W-2's per return. Joint returns accounted for a much higher proportion of multiple Forms W-2 (62 percent) than nonjoint returns (39 percent) reflecting the employment of both husband and wife and multiple jobholding by one or both spouses. The latter is more clearly indicated by joint returns with more than two Forms W-2 attached. Of the total joint returns with Forms W-2 attached, 38 percent indicated one W-2, 34 percent indicated two W-2's, and 28 percent indicated more than two W-2's. In contrast, 61 percent of non-joint returns had one Form W-2; 23 percent, two; and 16 percent, more than two.

Employers issued Form W-2 to their employees to indicate:

- (1) the amount of wages paid subject to withholding for income tax as well as other employee compensation;
- (2) the amount of Federal income tax withheld;
- (3) the amount of social security taxes (FICA) withheld on wages covered by social security.

Employees in turn were required to file this form with their tax return and to enter the amounts of wages, other compensation, and income tax withheld on the return. Columns 8 through 13 of table 1G show these amounts tabulated along with the associated return counts.

The wages subject to withholding and, as explained below, most of the other compensation shown on Forms W-2 were to be entered by taxpayers as salaries and wages on Form 1040. Income tax withheld was entered as such on the return. Columns 1 through 7 of table 1G show amounts tabulated from Forms 1040 to which Forms W-2 were attached. The amounts of salaries and wages and income tax withheld, taken from Form 1040, were closely related to the corresponding amounts of wages and other compensation, and to income tax withheld, taken from Form W-2.

Although approximately equal, the salaries and wages from the return and the attached Form W-2 statement were not entirely comparable. Form 1040 salaries and wages included all salaries and wages whether or not subject to withholding except tax-exempt salaries earned abroad. They also included directors' fees, bonuses, and excess reimbursement for employee travel expenses. Form W-2 wages did not include wages paid to employees of foreign governments or international organizations, wages paid to agricultural laborers, and wages paid to household employees because none of these were subject to tax withholding. (Agricultural laborers and household employees were subject to withholding of social security taxes, however, and are thus included in the FICA tax data.) In addition, Form W-2 sometimes included tax-exempt salaries and wages earned abroad.

Other compensation, which is combined with Form W-2 wages in column 9 of table 1G, included commissions paid to certain self-employed individuals, travel allowances, and employer payments (to the extent that they were not tax exempt) toward their employees' life insurance. On separate returns of husbands and wives in community property States, W-2 income and tax withheld were often twice the amounts entered on the return, since each spouse reported only one-half the couple's combined wages on his or her return.

In addition, some taxpayers with income from pensions and annuities or from partnerships attached statements to their returns on these earnings, using forms resembling the W-2. These earnings are thus reflected in the Form W-2 compensation statistics. In general, the Form 1040 data on salaries and wages conform more closely to the concept used in other statistical series than do the Form W-2 data.

Income tax withheld tends to be slightly higher on Form 1040 than on Form W-2, since Form 1040 withholding includes "excess FICA withheld," the amounts in excess of $374.40 withheld from the taxpayer's wages for Social Security purposes. On the other hand, in the case of separate returns from community property States, the amounts of withholding shown on some returns may have equaled only one-half the amount shown on the W-2.

While the tax return does not specifically call for an indication of sex of the taxpayer, a determination was made for this report on the basis of evidence on the return such as the taxpayer's title (Mr., Mrs., Miss); marital status (a joint return indicates one male, one female taxpayer); the taxpayer's first name; and, in the case of self-employed taxpayers, sex designation supplied on Schedule SE. On the basis of this information, returns were classified as returns filed by individual men, individual women, or as joint returns filed by married couples. In the case of joint returns, attached Forms W-2 were used to separate salaries and wages of husband and wife.

INCOME OF MEN, WOMEN, AND MARRIED COUPLES

Table 1H indicates that the average adjusted gross income shown on returns filed by unmarried men or by married men filing separately—$3,966—about equaled the average adjusted gross income of $3,973 shown on returns filed by unmarried women or by married women filing separately. Average adjusted gross income reported on joint returns of husbands and wives ($11,100) was, however, more than two and one-half times that of "other" returns.

NOTE: Detail may not add to total due to rounding.

Average salaries and wages on "other" returns (i.e., nonjoint returns) filed by men equaled $3,786, about $250 higher than the average salaries and wages on "other" returns filed by women. Men also had higher averages for the following types of income: business or profession, farm, sales of capital assets, and pensions and annuities. On the other hand, the returns of women indicated higher averages for dividend and interest income, and for income from estates and trusts.

While the number of "other" returns filed by men was about the same as the number filed by women, there were noticeable differences in the number of returns by source of income or loss. For example, twice as many women as men reported dividends and pension and annuity income while three times as many women as men reported net income from estates and trusts. Additional detail relating to returns filed by men and women filing separately is shown in tables 1.21 and 1.22.

It is not possible in the case of joint returns, to attribute the detail of every source of income to either the husband or the wife. However, by making use of the information supplied on attached Forms W-2, one can determine the salaries and wages earned by each. Table 1I indicates that the average salary of husbands reported on joint returns was $8,954, as compared with an average $4,883 for their wives. Just over one-half of the wives filing jointly with their husbands were wage earners.

Chart 1D indicates that among couples with incomes under $5,000, only about 40 percent of the wives worked. On the other hand, 23 percent of the wives in this income group earned more than half of the couple's combined wages. The earnings of husbands and wives tended to be closer on returns with incomes of $15,000 or more; 58 percent of the wives in this group worked, and on roughly one-third of the returns, the wife earned between 25 and 50 percent of the couple's combined wages.

Chart 1E shows that women earned only about $94 billion of the $413 billion in wages shown on joint returns. In contrast, the wages of men on nonjoint returns were only slightly higher than those of women, reflecting a more equal participation of male and female wage earners filing nonjoint returns. The average shown on Forms W-2 of men ($3,836) and women ($3,495) filing nonjoint returns also tended to be relatively close (see table 1.18).

NOTE: Amount detail may not add to total because of rounding.

Taxpayers filing individual income tax returns claimed two categories of income-related deductions: (1) deductions from gross income to arrive at adjusted gross income and (2) deductions from adjusted gross income to arrive at taxable income.

The first category includes ordinary and necessary expenses incurred by businessmen and farmers in the course of running their business, as well as certain expenses of employees such as moving or travel expenses. These deductions are not shown separately in this report. Expenses of businessmen and farmers were subtracted in the computation of business and profession or farm net income or loss; employee business expenses are reflected in the "other income less statutory adjustments" data.<sup>1</sup>

For the second category of deductions (those from adjusted gross income), taxpayers could either elect a standard deduction or could itemize each of their personal deductions for such items as interest paid, medical expenses, State and local taxes, and charitable contributions.

Also deductible from adjusted gross income were exemptions of $600 for taxpayer, spouse, and qualified dependents. Additional $600 exemptions were allowed for a taxpayer or spouse for age (65 or over) or blindness.

FORM OF DEDUCTION

Personal deductions could be itemized or taken in the form of the standard deduction. The standard deduction itself could take two forms. It was either 10 percent of the taxpayer's adjusted gross income, or $200 ($100 in the case of a married person filing separately) plus $100 for each exemption (the minimum standard deduction). In either case, the deduction was limited to $1,000 ($500 on returns of married persons filing separately). Chart 2A shows that the minimum standard deduction was primarily of use to taxpayers with income under $5,000. Due to the $1,000 limitation placed on the standard deduction, the vast majority of taxpayers with income of $10,000 or more itemized their deductions.

Table 2A shows that the average adjusted gross income of taxpayers itemizing their deductions was $11,951, with average deductions for these taxpayers amounting to $2,297 or 19.2 percent of income. Taxpayers taking the 10 percent deduction averaged $7,925 of income for 1969, and their deduction, reflecting in part the $1,000 ceiling, averaged 8.8 percent of their income. Taxpayers availing themselves of the minimum standard deduction averaged only $2,011 of income, and their deductions averaged 19.9 percent of their income. For all types of deductions, the average deduction increased with size of income; however, the ratio of deductions to income decreased as size of income increased.

HISTORICAL PATTERN

Chart 2B illustrates how the proportion of returns filed by taxpayers itemizing deductions rose in the last half of the 6-year period 1964-69 after remaining practically unchanged in the first half of that interval. Use of the minimum standard deduction, first introduced in 1964, declined steadily over the period, from 36.2 percent for 1964 to 29.7 percent for 1969. The proportion of returns with the 10 percent standard deduction rose from 1964 through 1967 and then declined through 1969. The increasing use of itemized deductions was related in part to the decrease in the number of returns with income under $5,000 over the 6-year period, and, more recently, the decline in the number of returns with income of $5,000 under $10,000 (see chart 1C).

(*) An asterisk in a cell denotes that the estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

However, table 2B shows that use of itemized deductions increased for 1969 even among taxpayers with income under $5,000. This was the second year that such an increase took place among low-income taxpayers, thus reversing a downward trend which started with the introduction of the minimum standard deduction in 1964. Factors contributing to this reversal may have been higher State and local taxes and medical expenses (including medical insurance premiums, part of which became deductible beginning 1967) which made itemized deductions more attractive to lower income taxpayers. The discontinuance of Form 1040A, on which there was no provision for itemizing deductions, may also have influenced some low-income taxpayers to itemize their deductions.

EXEMPTIONS

In the computation of taxable income, each taxpayer was allowed a $600 exemption. On a joint return, the husband and wife could each claim a $600 exemption, even if only one had income. A taxpayer and his spouse each received an additional $600 exemption if they were age 65 or over or were blind, and one exemption could be claimed for each qualified dependent.

The data on exemptions other than age and blindness shown in chart 2C provide some insights on family size. That chart shows that 28 million returns (37 percent of the total) were filed by persons claiming only themselves as exemptions. Another 27 percent showed two exemptions other than age and blindness.

Table 2C shows that age exemptions were claimed on just over 7 million returns (9.4 percent of the total).

Of these aged taxpayers, 35 percent used the minimum standard deduction, as compared to 30 percent for all taxpayers. The higher usage of the minimum standard deduction by older taxpayers reflects the basic benefit inherent in the minimum standard deduction which provides an additional $100 for age in the computation.

In spite of the fact that the amount a taxpayer could deduct as a minimum standard deduction was higher the more exemptions he could claim, use of this form of deduction was concentrated among taxpayers with only one exemption other than age and blindness. Over 50 percent of taxpayers claiming only their own exemption used the minimum standard deduction. The reason is that a large proportion of the returns with only one exemption were filed by taxpayers with very low income (see table 2.9). This group included most students with part-time or summer jobs.

INTRODUCTION

The taxpayer, in determining his tax liability, had to take account of several factors. These included:

- (1) his income subject to tax. Generally this was adjusted gross income minus the personal deductions and exemptions he was entitled to take,
- (2) the type of tax computation used,
- (3) his marital status, which determined the tax rate schedule applicable,
- (4) any tax credits he was entitled to apply against the income tax,
- (5) the surcharge, and
- (6) any additional tax. The self-employment tax or the tax from recomputing prior year investment credit increased the total tax liability.

INCOME SUBJECT TO TAX

Income subject to tax for most taxpayers consisted of adjusted gross income, less personal deductions and exemptions. The taxpayer typically applied a graduated set of rates, which differed primarily by marital status, to this amount. However, a small number of taxpayers found it advantageous to use an alternative method of computation when they had considerable amounts of net long-term capital gains in excess of short-term capital losses. Taxpayers, further, might be eligible to use a special computation averaging the income of several years to arrive at income subject to tax.

REGULAR METHOD OF TAX COMPUTATION

The "regular" method of applying the graduated combination of normal tax and surtax rates to brackets of "taxable income" was used on 63.5 million returns.

Table 3A provides a summary of the type of tax computation used by taxpayers. Returns with the "regular" method only, accounted for all but 700,000 of the returns with income subject to tax. Of the $388.1 billion of income subject to tax, all but $26.4 billion was reported on returns with regular tax.

ALTERNATIVE METHOD OF TAX COMPUTATION

This method of tax computation applied only to those taxpayers with large amounts of capital gains. The advantage of using the alternative method was that the taxable half of the net long-term capital gain (in excess of net short-term capital loss) was taxed at a 50 percent rate. The effect of this was that the maximum rate amounted to 25 percent on the total net long-term capital gain. Any taxable income in excess of capital gain was subject to normal tax and surtax rates. For some individuals with alternative tax, capital gain exceeded taxable income. Because it resulted in less tax, the capital gain and not "taxable income" became the "income subject to tax" which was used for the statistics.

Where taxpayers with capital gains found that the highest marginal tax rate applicable to them was less than 50 percent, the normal tax and surtax rates were used for the whole of their taxable income. Therefore, in order to use the alternative method advantageously a taxpayer must have had taxable income exceeding $26,000 if he filed a separate return, $52,000 if he filed a joint return, and $38,000 if he filed a head of household return. However, the 101,000 returns with alternative tax represented less than 2 percent of the 6.7 million returns showing a net long-term capital gain in excess of any net short-term capital loss.

Taxpayers using the alternative method of tax computation had an income subject to tax totaling $12.9 billion. Chart 3A shows that $5.4 billion of income subject to tax was taxed at the capital gains rate and $7.5 billion at the normal tax and surtax rates (regular computation).

The resulting income tax before credits amounted to $6.0 billion. Of this amount, $2.7 billion was based on the capital gains rate and $3.3 billion on the normal tax and surtax rates.

Of the amount taxed at the capital gains rate, $0.3 billion was reported by taxpayers using the income averaging computation (described below) in connection with the alternative tax.

RETURNS WITH INCOME AVERAGING

If a taxpayer had an unusually large amount of taxable income in any one year, it might have been advantageous for him to use income averaging in computing income subject to tax. This would result in taxing a part of the unusually large income of one year at the same lower effective rate which applied to the first one-fifth of such income.

As table 3B shows nearly 593,000 returns indicated use of income averaging. The total tax savings amounted to $294 million. The average tax saving was $495. Only returns showing adjusted gross income of $30,000 or more reflected a higher than average saving.

The range of average tax savings derived from the use of income averaging for 1969 was wide. The average saving on returns with adjusted gross income under $15,000 was only $97. On returns with adjusted gross income $1,000,000 or more the average saving amounted to $23,260. In general, tax saving, as a percent of income tax before income averaging, was proportionately higher at the lower income levels. This was due principally to the effects of the graduated tax rates and to the tendency for higher incomes to reflect capital gains as a major source of income. Net long-term capital gain could not be included in averageable income. Also excluded from the averaging computation was income derived from gifts, inherited property, and wagering.

TAX RATE SCHEDULES

A tax rate is the percentage used to denote the rate at which all or a portion of an individual's income was taxed. Tax rates were used to classify data for five tables included in this report. Four of the tables (3.3-3.6) show the amount of income subject to tax by the rates at which it was taxed, in other words, the income on each return was subdivided into the amount taxed per tax rate. In table 3.7 a greater amount of information from each return is classified by the highest rate used by a taxpayer in computing his tax.

The following explanations and illustrations show how the tax return data presented in tables 3.3 through 3.7 are derived from information available on the tax return:

Income subject to tax for income averaging returns and returns with normal tax and surtax only was "taxable income." For returns with the alternative tax computation, income subject to tax was either (1) "taxable income," where that amount was greater than one-half the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, or (2) one-half the excess of net long-term capital gain, where that amount was equal to or greater than "taxable income."

Tax rate was the rate at which all or a portion of an individual's income was taxed. Some of the tax rates are described below:

a. zero percent (returns with no income subject to tax)--This term was used to describe returns that showed deductions plus exemptions equal to or exceeding adjusted gross income, and returns with no adjusted gross income at all.

b. fifty percent (alternative tax computation returns with capital gains tax only)--This was the rate applicable to returns which showed one-half the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, equal to or greater than taxable income. The one-half excess gain, therefore, was the income subject to tax rather than taxable income.

c. fifty percent (alternative tax computation returns with capital gains tax and normal tax and surtax)--This was the rate applicable to returns where a portion of the income was subject to the capital gains rate, and a portion to the normal tax and surtax rates.

Marginal rate was the maximum rate that applied to any part of the income subject to tax. Example 1 in the "Illustrations of the presentation of tax return data classified by rate" shows that a joint return with $11,000 of income subject to tax at the combined normal tax and surtax rates had a marginal tax rate of 22.0 percent. Returns with income subject to tax to which both the capital gains rate and the normal tax and surtax rates applied were classified in their normal tax and surtax marginal tax rate classes.

Income subject to tax (column 3, table 3.7) was the entire tax base reported on a return, rather than the part taxed at a specified marginal rate. (The difference between income subject to tax and taxable income is explained above.)

Total income tax before credits (column 4, table 3.7) was the reported tax before credits of each return classified by the marginal tax rate of the return.

Income taxed at marginal rate (column 5, table 3.7) was that portion of the income subject to tax that was subject to a specified marginal tax rate. For example, a joint return with $11,000 of income subject to tax (for normal tax and surtax rates) would have the top $3,000 taxed at the marginal rate of 22.0 percent. The remaining income subject to tax was subject to the lower rates.

Tax generated at marginal rate (column 6, table 3.7) was that portion of the tax liability on a return that was computed at the highest rate applicable to the return.

NOTE: Columns 7, 8, and 9 of table 3.7 are not shown because they have no application to the above example.

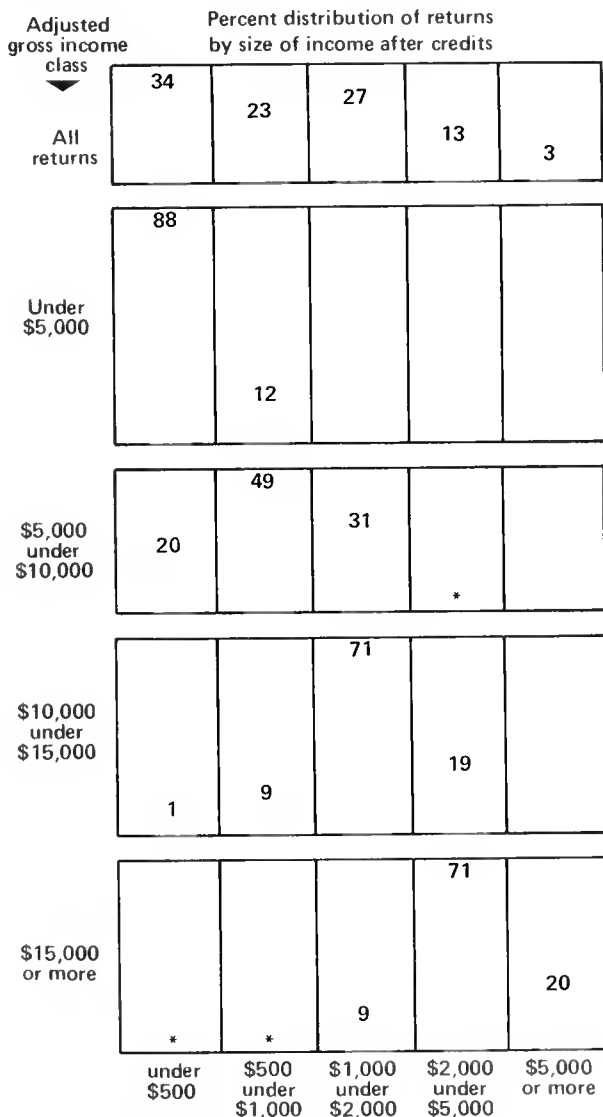

It was obtained by applying the tax rate in the stub to the amount in column 5.

Income taxed at tax rate (column 11, table 3.7) was the income spread according to the applicable tax rate classes to which it was subject. For example, a joint return with an $11,000 income subject to tax (at the combined normal tax and surtax rates) would have $1,000 taxed at 14 percent, $1,000 taxed at 15 percent, $1,000 taxed at 16 percent, $1,000 taxed at 17 percent, $4,000 taxed at 19 percent, and $3,000 taxed at 22 percent.

Tax generated at tax rate (column 12, table 3.7) was the total of the tax generated at each tax rate and was obtained by applying the tax rate in the stub to the income subject to tax in column 11.

SIZE OF INCOME TAX

As illustrated in chart 3B, based on tables 3.15 and 3.16, a tax liability of less than $500 was reported on about 34 percent of all taxable returns for 1969. Of the 63.7 million returns with income tax after credits, only about 0.6 million indicated a tax of $10,000 or more, including some 49,000 returns which showed a tax liability of $50,000 or more for the year.

Statistics of Income has provided additional information beginning with 1967 on nontaxable returns, in particular, those with adjusted gross income of $100,000 or more. Table 3.16 shows that within this same class there were other returns that were just "barely taxable." The table shows, for example, that for 1969 there were 11 returns with adjusted gross income of $100,000 or more, that showed an income tax liability of less than $100, while 17 returns showed a tax liability of $100 but under $200, and 15 a liability of $200 but under $300.

TAX SURCHARGE

After the taxpayer computed his regular tax liability, he then had to increase this amount by 10 percent of the tax reduced by any retirement income credit. This addition to tax constituted the tax surcharge imposed for the period January 1, 1969, through December 31, 1969.

The discussion of the tax surcharge in section 1 explains why the total surcharge amounted to less than 10 percent of the income tax before credits shown in this report.

METHOD OF TAXPAYMENT

Individuals satisfied their tax liability primarily through tax withholding on wages, payments on estimated tax, and payments with the return when filed. If the provisional payments were in excess of the tax liability for the year, the excess amount could be refunded or applied as a credit against the following year's tax. Returns seldom showed that prepayments of tax exactly equaled their tax bill. Table 3C summarizes tax overpayment and tax due at time of filing.

OVERPAYMENT OF TAX AND TAX DUE AT TIME OF FILING

Almost 55 million returns showed an overpayment of tax, an increase of 4.5 million returns over 1968. As table 3C indicates, the overpayment totalled $14.6 billion, 29.6 percent more than the income tax liability. Some 53 million returns specified that all or part of the overpayment be refunded. The total refund claimed was $13.1 billion, compared with $9.8 billion for 1968. There were over 2 million returns on which all or part of the overpayment were credited to tax for 1970. About 360,000 returns indicated both a refund and a credit on their 1970 estimated tax.

There were 17.9 million returns with tax due at time of filing, a decline of over 2.5 million returns from the preceding year. However, the $10.5 billion of tax due at time of filing was only slightly less than the $10.6 billion due a year earlier. Table 3E presents a distribution of returns by size of tax due. The table shows that individual amounts due which were $500 or more accounted for $8.6 billion out of the $10.5 billion total.

Chart 3C illustrates the increase in the number of returns filed with overpayment of tax for the period 1965-1969. While the total number of returns filed during this interval increased 12 percent, the number of returns with a tax overpayment increased 24 percent.

The decrease in tax due, as well as the increase in overpayments for the year, can be traced in part to the timing of the imposition of the 10 percent tax surcharge. The withholding rates reflecting the 10 percent surcharge were effective as of July 13, 1968, whereas the surcharge itself was made retroactive to April 1, 1968. For 1969, on the other hand, both the surcharge and the increased withholding rates were effective for the same period of time--the entire calendar year.

 (*) An asterisk in a cell denotes that the estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.
 † Included under each tax rate that portion of the income subject to tax taxed at each tax rate.

NOTE: Money amounts may not add to total because of rounding.

(*) An asterisk in a cell denotes that the estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

2 Included under each tax rate is that portion of the income subject to tax taxed at each tax rate.

These returns are not included in the totals because they are included in the rate class which applies to the income subject to normal tax and surtax rates.

NOTE: Amount detail may not add to total because of rounding.

(*) An asterisk in a cell denotes that the estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.
These returns are not included in the total because they already appear in the class which is their marginal normal tax and surtax rate.
NOTE: Amount detail may not add to total because of rounding.

(*) An asterisk in a cell denotes that the estimate is not shown separately because of high sampling variability. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.

This section provides data from returns of taxpayers who were age 65 or over in 1969. Returns filed by these taxpayers constituted 9.5 percent of all returns filed. Returns of older taxpayers reveal income-reporting patterns that are markedly different from those of taxpayers in general. These taxpayers also benefit from special provisions of the tax law. These provisions included more liberal filing requirements, an additional exemption of $600 for each taxpayer age 65 or over and an additional $100 built into the minimum standard deduction, the exclusion of all or part of the gain on the sale of a personal residence, and more liberal treatment of certain "retirement income" for the purpose of computing the retirement income credit.

AGE EXEMPTION RETURNS

The presence of the additional exemption allowed taxpayers age 65 or over was used as the basis for classifying returns in tables presented in this section. In the case of joint returns of husbands and wives, some had only one additional exemption for age while others had two indicating that both husband and wife were age 65 or over. Whether one or two exemptions for age were claimed, the return was considered to be a return of a taxpayer age 65 or over for purposes of the statistics. Table 4.1 presents data for all returns with at least one age exemption, table 4.2 for joint returns with at least one age exemption, and table 4.3 for joint returns with two age exemptions.

income from pensions, savings, and investments rather than earnings from employment. As shown in chart 4A, wages and salaries constituted 83 percent of the income of all taxpayers but only 35 percent of the income of taxpayers age 65 or over. Investment income constituted nearly one-half the income of older taxpayers but comprised less than 10 percent of the income of all taxpayers.

Table 4A presents a comparison by source of income for all returns and returns of taxpayers age 65 or over. Similar comparisons are made for joint returns. Although older taxpayers accounted for only 8 percent of total adjusted gross income, they reported 74 percent of pension and annuity income, 70 percent of rental income, 50 percent of dividends, 43 percent of interest, and 42 percent of royalties.

DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME

Table 4B presents a comparative income distribution of returns and adjusted gross income for all taxpayers and taxpayers age 65 or over. The greater proportion of returns of older taxpayers falling into income classes under $10,000 may not be entirely indicative of the actual income received by the elderly because social security and railroad retirement benefits were not required to be included in income for tax-reporting purposes.

NONTAXABLE RETURNS

Lower income, higher deductions, and preferential tax treatment contributed to a higher proportion of non-taxable returns filed by older taxpayers. For 1969, about one out of six returns filed by all taxpayers was nontaxable as compared with two out of six for older taxpayers. However, with the upward shift in income distribution which occurred during the 1960's, the proportion of nontaxable to total age-exemption returns declined from about 50 percent for 1960 to 35 percent for 1969. The proportion of nontaxable returns filed by all taxpayers declined by about 5 percent during the same period.

MARITAL STATUS, SEX, AND AGE

Table 4C presents for the first time, data from returns of older taxpayers classified by marital status, sex, and age. For 1969, there were approximately 1.2 million more women than men represented on age exemption returns, although by definition both taxpayers on a joint return did not have to be 65 or over to be represented in the statistics for age exemption returns.

The sex distribution of returns with either one or two age exemptions was about equal. However, of the 8.0 million taxpayers represented on joint returns, there were 1.4 million more men than women for whom age exemptions were claimed. In total, joint returns accounted for 56 percent of all age exemption returns, a percentage that also applied to joint returns in general.

About 70 percent of the remaining, non-joint, returns were filed by women, compared to less than 50 percent for the population as a whole. The number of women taxpayers age 65 or more filing non-joint returns, 2.2 million, was more than enough to offset the preponderance of men age 65 or over represented in joint returns.

There is a slight, apparent difference of about 20,000 age exemptions between (a) the number shown in table 2C (Exemptions by Type and Number) in section 2 and (b) the number derived from table 4C. The reason for the greater number in table 2C is the inclusion of the age exemption of the "other" spouse claimed on separate returns of husbands and wives. Age exemptions totaling 9,261,943, reflected in table 4C, when added to 20,687 age exemptions of "other" spouses, to which taxpayers filing a separate return were entitled equal the 9,282,630 age exemptions shown in table 2C.

RETIREMENT INCOME CREDIT

The retirement income credit was designed to provide some tax relief to elderly or retired persons living on pensions, annuities, or other forms of "retirement income" (such as dividends, interest, or rents) in order to help equalize their tax treatment with those receiving tax-exempt social security or railroad retirement benefits. A complete explanation of the credit, eligibility for claiming it, and methods for its computation are provided in the "Explanation of Classifications and Terms."

As shown in table 4.4, about 97 percent of the 1.7 million returns with a retirement income credit had a supporting Schedule R showing how the credit was computed. Of these returns, 1.6 million indicated use of the "general rule" for credit computation while only 83,000 indicated use of the "alternative method."

Under the "general rule," the credit was 15 percent of the lesser of "retirement income," or $1,524 minus deductions for tax-exempt benefits and current "earned income" above specified levels. The "alternative method" was available to taxpayers who filed a joint return where both were age 65 or over. At least one of them had to have received "earned income" of more than $600 in any of 10 calendar years prior to 1969. This method also provided a $2,286 maximum base for computation of the credit. "Taxpayers eligible for but not using the alternative method" as shown in table 4.4 indicates the number who presumably chose the general rule because it afforded them an equal or larger credit. This occurred on joint returns where both spouses had retirement income and met the earned-income requirement mentioned above, and the sum of their separate bases ($3,048 maximum for credit computation) equaled or exceeded the base computed under the alternative method. Comparable retirement income credit data were last published in the Statistics of Income for 1967.

Chart 4B shows the total and average retirement income credit from its inception in 1954 to the present. The amount of credit reached its peak in 1963 reflecting in part, the 1962 statutory increase in the "maximum base" for credit computation from $1,200 to $1,524. The sharp decline in the average credit from 1963 to 1965 partially reflects the reductions in the rate for computation of the credit from 20 percent to 17 percent for 1964 and to 15 percent for 1965 and years thereafter.

Retirement income credit in offsetting income tax had a unique effect with respect to the surcharge on income tax. Beginning with 1968, taxpayers were permitted to reduce income tax before credits by the retirement income credit prior to computing their surcharge. This meant that the credit could be used not only directly to offset tax liability (including the tax surcharge), but could also be used indirectly to reduce the base upon which the surcharge was computed. Table 4.5 shows that about 919,000 returns, representing 53 percent of returns with a retirement income credit, also showed the tax surcharge. The remaining returns with a retirement income credit did not show the surcharge chiefly because the retirement income credit completely offset the tax before addition of the surcharge or because the surcharge did not apply to the small amounts of residual tax.

Other data for the retirement income credit may be found in section 1 in tables 1.5, 1.6, and 1.7 (marital status); 1.9 (nontaxable returns); 1.17 (returns with pension and annuity income); 1.21 and 1.22 (sex of taxpayer); in section 2 in tables 2.3 (returns with itemized deductions), and 2.6 (returns with standard deduction); and, in section 3 in tables 3.1 and 3.2 (type of tax computation), and 3.8 through 3.11 (returns with surcharge).

Internal Revenue Service Regions, 1969

This section of the report presents individual income tax data for each of the 50 States and for the 125 largest standard metropolitan statistical areas. Summary tabulations are shown for the seven Internal Revenue Service Regions and two standard consolidated areas. The methods used in coding returns for these geographic classifications, and the limitations of these methods, are explained in the text below.

State classifications in the Statistics of Income series are based on the district code given each return in the Internal Revenue district office or regional service center in which it was filed. Taxpayers were instructed to file their returns in the district or region in which they resided, and to the extent that they did so, the State data reflect an accurate picture of taxpayers within each State. Most taxpayers did file in the correct place. However, there were some returns filed in an incorrect place due to the reasons cited below.

(1) Some taxpayers who had moved filed with the district office or regional service center serving the area in which they used to live, either out of habit or because IRS had sent them a preprinted envelope addressed to the service center of the region in which the taxpayer formerly resided.

(2) Some taxpayers filed from their place of business rather than their place of residence, for example, a Connecticut commuter filing with the district office serving New York City, his place of business, rather than the one serving Connecticut, his place of residence.

(3) Some taxpayers filed from their tax lawyer's or accountant's place of business, which again may have been in another State from the taxpayer's residence.

(4) Some taxpayers may simply have misunderstood the instructions on where to file.

The effect of a taxpayer filing in the wrong place depended on whether he was filing with the wrong district office, the wrong service center, or with the National Office of IRS in Washington, D.C.

(1) If a taxpayer sent his return to a district office in a State other than the one in which he resided, his return would have been classified for the State to which he sent it. Based on the results of an earlier special study, the number of such returns tended to be counterbalanced by a similar number filed by taxpayers who resided in that State but sent their returns elsewhere.

(2) If the taxpayer filed his return with the wrong regional service center, it was arbitrarily classified for one of the States in that region. The States chosen for classifying out-of-region returns are as follows: in the Central Region, Ohio; in the Mid-Atlantic Region, Maryland; in the Midwest Region, Illinois; in the North-Atlantic Region, Connecticut; in the Southeast Region, Florida; in the Southwest Region, Texas; and in the Western Region, California. As a result, data for these States may be somewhat overstated. Data for all other States tend to be very slightly understated; however, since the effect is spread over all 43 remaining States, it is not of great significance in any one State.

(3) If the return was sent to the National Office, it was processed in the Mid-Atlantic Service Center. If such a return came from a State not in the Mid-Atlantic Region, it was coded as a Maryland return. Therefore, the Maryland estimates, based on the earlier special study cited previously, may be overstated by as much as 10 percent. Part of the overstatement in Maryland is due also to the fact that service personnel stationed abroad erroneously sent their returns to the National Office or the Baltimore District Office.

Many service personnel stationed abroad also file their returns in New York, California, or Washington State, where the Army Post Offices (APO's) and Fleet Post Offices (FPO's) are located. However, each State total contains at least a few returns of such personnel stationed abroad.

Table 5A compares State data from 1969 tax returns (filed around April 15, 1970) to population data from the April 1, 1970 Census. Differences between the two series are related both to the limitations of the State classifications mentioned above, and to conceptual differences between IRS and Census data.

The data used in this comparison are:

1. Population used as a basis for Congressional apportionment as reported in the 1970 Census.

This includes, for each State, not only the resident population, but also Government employees (civilian and military) stationed abroad, as well as their families, whose permanent addresses were in that State.

2. Number of exemptions other than age and blindness as shown on tax returns for 1969.

This includes one exemption for each taxpayer, for the taxpayer's spouse (if that spouse did not file a separate return), and for each qualified dependent. For each State, this should include those Government employees (civilian and military) stationed abroad who maintained a permanent residence in that State. However, as mentioned above, some Government employees also filed with APO and FPO addresses in New York, California, and Washington State, or with the Baltimore District Office.

The two concepts of population differ in several other respects. Taxation data would exceed Census counts for two reasons. Exemptions could be claimed on 1969 tax returns for anyone living at any time during calendar year 1969, even though he may have died before the end of the year. Furthermore, in the tax return data, some dependents who earned small amounts of income were counted twice--once as taxpayers on their own returns and once as dependents on their parents' returns. On the other hand, the IRS statistics exclude those individuals whose income was so low that they did not meet the tax return filing requirements and who did not file for a refund of tax withheld.

The Census count applies to the population at one moment in time--April 1, 1970. In contrast to the tax return data, it does not include anyone who died during the period January 1 to December 31, 1969. On the other hand, it does include children born during the period January 1 to April 1, 1970, and not eligible for exemptions on 1969 income tax returns.

Table 5A shows that, for the Nation as a whole, exemptions other than age and blindness reported on tax returns for 1969 equalled 96.1 percent of the April 1, 1970 population. As might be expected, the percentage was somewhat higher in most of the States chosen for classifying returns filed "out-of-region." The percentage was generally lower in States with low average incomes, where many residents may not have met the filing requirements. The relatively low percentage for Florida may be due in part to the fact that many older people live there--persons aged 65 and over enjoyed more liberal filing requirements--and in part to the fact that many people who were in Florida at the time of the Census had a permanent address in another State, from which they filed their returns.

Not shown in table 5A, but included in all the basic tables in this section, are data on the 35,548 returns filed from Puerto Rico. The 131,046 exemptions other than age and blindness shown on these returns represent less than 5 percent of the population of Puerto Rico. Income earned by bona fide residents of Puerto Rico from sources within that Commonwealth was, as a rule, exempt from taxation under U.S. tax law, and most residents of Puerto Rico therefore did not have to file U.S. income tax returns. Those returns that were filed reflected amounts earned by Puerto Rico residents from sources outside the Commonwealth, or in Puerto Rico as employees of the United States Government, and amounts earned by persons who were not residents of Puerto Rico for the full taxable year.

STANDARD METROPOLITAN STATISTICAL AREAS

Standard metropolitan statistical areas (SMSA's) are defined by the Office of Management and Budget in order to make it possible for all Federal Statistical agencies to utilize the same boundaries in publishing statistical data useful for analyzing metropolitan problems. Each standard metropolitan statistical area contains a city (or contiguous "twin" cities) with at least 50,000 inhabitants, and includes the county of such central city as well as adjacent counties found to be metropolitan in character and economically and socially integrated with the county of the central city. (In New England, the basic units comprising the SMSA are cities and towns rather than counties.)

In this report, data are shown for the 125 largest SMSA's. These include most of the metropolitan areas with a 1960 population of 200,000 or more. The counties or cities and towns comprising each of these areas are shown in table 5B. It should be noted that, as counties adjoining a metropolitan area meet the criteria of metropolitan character and socioeconomic integration, the SMSA is redefined to include these counties. Therefore, the definitions in this report, which conform to those established by the Office of Management and Budget as of March 1967, differ in some cases from those used in Statistics of Income reports for tax years before 1967.

The criteria for including a return in a standard metropolitan statistical area were the return address indicated by the taxpayer and the district code entered by the district office or service center. Since the district code was the primary classifier, any return with an incorrect district code was automatically coded as not belonging to any metropolitan area. Most of the other limitations of the State classifications mentioned above apply to the metropolitan area classifications as well.

The SMSA data shown in this report are subject to special limitations. Since metropolitan areas tend to be smaller than States, metropolitan area data are subject to higher sampling variability. Moreover, sampling weights for States are based on actual counts of returns filed in each State. No such counts were available by SMSA, so no special metropolitan area weights could be devised. For a measure of the sampling variability in the metropolitan area tables see table 7D. Special limitations of the SMSA tables also result from the involved statistical coding required in determining whether or not a taxpayer's address lay within a metropolitan area.

It should be noted that coding for Washington, D.C.--which is not a separate Internal Revenue district, but is combined with Maryland in the Baltimore district--involves a process similar to that used for coding SMSA's, with determination based on taxpayer address. The limitations described for the metropolitan area data therefore also apply to the District of Columbia data shown in the State tabulations.

<sup>1</sup>The criterion for including a metropolitan area among the 125 largest was the population in 1960 of the area as defined in 1969.

OTHER GEOGRAPHIC CLASSIFICATIONS

Most of the tables in this section also present data for Internal Revenue Service administrative regions. Each region has a service center which processes the returns filed in the districts which make up the region. The States comprising each region are indicated in the map on page 177, which represents the field organization of the Service in 1969.

In recognition of the special importance of even more inclusive metropolitan statistics for the large conurbations around New York and Chicago, the Office of Management and Budget has established definitions for two "standard consolidated areas." The Chicago, Illinois--Northeastern Indiana standard consolidated area consists of the Chicago and the Gary-Hammond-East Chicago standard metropolitan statistical areas; the New York--Northeastern New Jersey standard consolidated area is made up of four SMSA's in the New York area, plus two contiguous counties in New Jersey (see table 5B).

Totals in the SMSA tables are for all areas falling into the 125 largest metropolitan areas, plus the two counties in New Jersey which are part of the New York--Northeastern New Jersey standard consolidated area. National totals shown in the State and regional tables differ slightly from those presented elsewhere in this report because of differences in sample weights used. These are explained in the Description of the Sample (section 7).

COMPENSATION REPORTED ON FORMS W-2

Form W-2, the wage and tax statement supplied to employees by their employers, was used for the first time in the 1969 Statistics of Income program to separate the wages earned by men and women. The map at the top of page 183 shows the average W-2 wage per wage earner (whether male or female) by State. Generally, average wages over $5,500 were found on the East Coast between Virginia and Massachusetts, in a band of States stretching along the Great Lakes, and in the Far West. The highest average wage--$7,120--was found in Alaska, the lowest in Arkansas ($4,198).

The lower map on page 183 compares the average wages of women to the average wages of men by State (in the case of joint returns of husbands and wives, both of whom worked, each spouse's wage was considered separately). As a rule, women's wages tended to be closest to men's wages in those States where the overall wage level was lowest, most notably in the Southeastern part of the country. There were, however, some notable exceptions to this rule. Washington, D.C., for instance, with an average wage of $6,087 had the highest rate of average women's to average men's wages--65 percent. Aside from the District of Columbia, there were two States with average wages of $5,500 or more where the wage level for women was more than 50 percent of that for men: Alaska and Hawaii. In the Rocky Mountain States, on the other hand, relatively low wage levels tended to be associated with relatively low ratios of women's to men's average wages.

CLASSIFICATIONS

Adjusted gross income classes

The amount of adjusted gross income reported by the taxpayer on his return was generally the basis for classifying data by size of income. Returns with deficit and those on which income and loss were equal were classified as having "No adjusted gross income" and appear as a separate class.

Marital status

The five marital classifications were:

- (1) Joint returns of husbands and wives,
- (2) Separate returns of husbands and wives,
- (3) Returns of heads of household,
- (4) Returns of surviving spouse, and
- (5) Returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse.

Marital status was usually determined as of the last day of the tax year. If one spouse died during the tax year, the other was considered married for the entire year. If a taxpayer was divorced during the tax year and did not remarry, he was considered to be single for the entire year. Each of the above classifications is described under a separate heading.

Method of tax computation

Line 18, page 1 and Schedules D and G of Forms 1040 were used as a basis for classifying income tax returns according to the method of tax computation used:

The three methods of tax computation were:

- (1) Normal tax and surtax,
- (2) Alternative computation of tax, and
- (3) Income averaging (actually a method of computing income subject to tax).

Each is described under separate heading in the Explanation of Terms below.

Regions and States

State classifications were based on the district code given each return in the Internal Revenue Service district or regional service center in which it was filed. Districts, or groups of districts, were identical with State boundaries, except that the District of Columbia was a part of the Baltimore, Maryland, Internal Revenue District. However, District of Columbia returns were coded separately based on the street address and ZIP code shown on each return. The Office of International Operations had charge of returns with addresses outside the 50 States and the District of Columbia. These included returns from the Virgin Islands, Panama Canal Zone, and returns with foreign addresses, all of which are shown in the State statistics under "Other areas." Qualifying returns filed by bona fide residents of Puerto Rico, also processed by the Office of International Operations, are shown separately in the State data.

Each of the seven Internal Revenue Regions was composed of a group of districts, as shown by the map in section 5, and each had a service center in which returns filed with the service center or through the district offices were processed.

National totals in the State and regional tables differ slightly from those presented elsewhere because of differences in computing the national and district sampling weights used to derive the statistics. Other limitations can be found in section 5--State and Metropolitan Area Data.

Returns with standard deduction or with itemized deductions

This classification of returns was basically determined by the presence or absence of nonbusiness itemized deductions.

Returns with itemized deductions were those returns which had positive adjusted gross income against which the taxpayer claimed itemized nonbusiness deductions in computing his taxable income. A relatively few returns which showed no deductions were classified as itemized deduction returns. This was because when married persons filed separate returns and all of their itemized deductions were claimed on one of the returns, the other spouse was required to file the same type of return even though no deductions were claimed.

Standard deduction returns included the following:

- (1) Returns with adjusted gross income under $5,000 on which the income tax was determined from the "tax table," and
- (2) All other returns on which the taxpayer elected to use the 10 percent or minimum standard deduction.

Standard metropolitan statistical areas

A taxpayer's post office address and the Internal Revenue district code assigned to his return were the bases for a return's inclusion in one of the 125 standard metropolitan statistical areas listed in text table 5B of section

5. These 125 areas conformed to the 1969 definitions developed by the Office of Management and Budget and had the largest populations within the 50 States based on the 1960 Census.

Tax rate classes

Tax rates were used to classify data for some of the tables included in section 3 of this report. A tax rate class was the percentage at which all or a portion of an individual's income was taxed. "Returns with the tax rate as the marginal rate" referred to the highest rate used by a taxpayer in computing his tax.

See also the example and text in section 3--Tax Computation and Tax Rates.

Tax rate schedules

The three tax rate schedules designed for individual income taxpayers were for:

- (1) Joint returns and returns of surviving spouse,
- (2) Separate returns of husbands and wives and returns of single persons not head of household or surviving spouse, and
- (3) Returns of heads of household.

Taxable and nontaxable returns

Taxability or nontaxability was determined by the presence or absence of income tax after credits. Many returns showed a liability for self-employment tax or tax from recomputing prior year investment credit; however, these taxes were disregarded for purpose of this classification.

Taxpayers age 65 or over

The presence of the additional exemption allowed taxpayers age 65 or over was used as the basis of this classification. In the case of joint returns of husbands and wives, some had only one additional exemption for age 65 or over while others had two additional exemptions for age, indicating that both husband and wife were 65 or more. Whether one or two exemptions were claimed, the return was considered a return of a taxpayer age 65 or over.

TERMS

Explanations of terms are designed to aid the user in interpreting the statistical content of this report and should not be construed as interpretations of the Internal Revenue Code, or related regulations, procedures, or policies. Code sections cited were those in effect for 1969.

Adjusted gross income

This amount was the result of reducing gross income from all sources subject to tax by deductions such as the following:

- (1) Ordinary and necessary expenses of operating a trade or business,

- (2) Employee business and moving expenses,

- (3) Expense deductions attributable to rents and royalties,

- (4) Expenses of outside salesmen attributable to earning a salary, commission, or other compensation,

- (5) Depreciation and depletion allowed life tenants and income beneficiaries of property held in trust,

- (6) Exclusion of allowable sick pay if the sick pay was included in gross salary,

- (7) Deductible losses from sales of capital assets and other property,

- (8) Deductible half of the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss,

- (9) Business net operating loss carryover, and

- (10) Contributions to a retirement fund by the self-employed.

A deficit adjusted gross income occurred when the allowable deductions or losses exceeded gross income.

Alternative computation of tax

Under the alternative computation, half the excess of net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss was included in taxable income, and tax before credits was 50 percent of the excess plus an amount calculated by applying the normal tax and surtax rates to the balance of taxable income. The effect was to tax long-term capital gains at a maximum rate of 25 percent and all other income at the regular rates.

This method of income tax computation was available to taxpayers with a long-term capital gain in adjusted gross income whose taxable income, including long-term capital gains, exceeded $52,000 on joint returns and returns of surviving spouse, $38,000 on returns of head of household, or $26,000 on single returns or on returns of married persons filing separately. These were the points at which the combined normal tax and surtax marginal rates on the different rate schedules exceeded 50 percent.

Alternative method for computation of retirement income credit

See "Retirement income credit."

Balance due after remittance

This amount was the difference between "Tax due at time of filing" and any remittance tendered by the taxpayer with his return.

Balance for partial tax

See "Alternative computation of tax."

Business or profession net profit or net loss

This source was reported by individuals who were proprietors of a business or members of a profession. When there were two or more proprietorships operated by the taxpayer, the single amount of profit or loss included in adjusted gross income represented the combined profit and loss from all business activities. The proprietor was required to exclude dividends and other investment income from business profits and to include them instead with the various types of investment income for which separate provision was made on the individual income tax return.

Business costs and expenses were deductible from gross receipts or gross sales in arriving at net profit or loss. Compensation of the proprietor was taxable income and therefore not allowed as a business deduction in computing net profit. The carryover of a prior year net operating loss was not considered a business expense but was offset instead against "other income" on the proprietor's income tax return.

Information on business receipts and expenditures can be found in Statistics of Income--Business Income Tax Returns.

Capital gains and losses

See "Sales of capital assets."

Capital loss carryover

See "Sales of capital assets."

Credit on 1970 tax

This credit was the part of the overpayment on 1969 tax which the taxpayer specifically requested be credited to his estimated tax for 1970.

Dividend exclusion

A taxpayer could exclude up to $100 of eligible dividends from adjusted gross income. On joint returns, the maximum exclusion was $200 if both husband and wife received eligible dividends, each excluding up to $100 against his respective dividend income. For a further explanation of eligible dividends see "Domestic and foreign dividends received."

Dividends in adjusted gross income

Total domestic and foreign dividends less the dividend exclusion equalled dividends in adjusted gross income.

For further explanation see "Domestic and foreign dividends received" and "Dividend exclusion."

Domestic and foreign dividends received

Domestic and foreign dividends received included--

(1) Dividends eligible for exclusion consisting of dividends from domestic corporations received directly, or indirectly as a beneficiary of income from estates or trusts, or as included in a partner's share of partnership profits.

(2) Dividends not eligible for exclusion consisting of dividends from--

(a) foreign corporations, China Trade Act corporations, exempt farmers' cooperatives, real estate investment trusts, and

(b) corporations doing business in possessions of the United States, if 80 percent or more of their gross income was derived from U.S. possessions and 50 percent or more from the active conduct of a business in U.S. possessions.

Domestic and foreign dividends did not include capital gain distributions from regulated investment companies or nontaxable distributions of stock or stock rights, returns of capital, or liquidation distributions. Also excluded were so-called dividends on deposits or withdrawable accounts in mutual saving banks, cooperative banks, savings and loan associations, and credit unions.

Estates and trusts net income or loss

This was the beneficiaries' share of fiduciary income (with the exception of the items described below which were reported separately) from any estate or trust. Income from estates and trusts included amounts required to be distributed and amounts credited to a beneficiary's account from current year fiduciary income, whether or not actually received by him. It also included his share of any accumulation distribution made by the fiduciary of a complex trust which distributed income accumulated in prior tax years. The beneficiary's share of these distributions was reduced by his share of depletion and depreciation before reporting the net amount as part of adjusted gross income.

The taxpayers also excluded from estate or trust income his share of dividends, interest, and gains or losses from sales of capital assets and other property. Such income (which comprised the largest portion of income from an estate or trust) was reported on the tax return on the separate lines provided for this purpose. A loss from an estate or trust was allocated to the beneficiary only upon termination of an estate or trust which had a net operating loss carryover or a capital loss carryover, or for its last tax year had deductions (other than for exemptions and charitable contributions) in excess of gross income.

Excess social security taxes withheld

See "Income tax withheld."

Exemptions

In the computation of taxable income, a $600 deduction was allowed for each exemption claimed. An exemption was allowed for each taxpayer shown on a return (on joint returns husband and wife were each regarded as a taxpayer). If either husband or wife filed a separate return, the other spouse's exemption could be claimed on that return only if the spouse did not file a return, had no gross income, and was not the dependent of another taxpayer.

Additional exemptions were allowed for a taxpayer or spouse who was either age 65 or over or who was blind before the close of the taxable year. Exemptions were also allowed for qualified dependents who had less than $600 gross income and who received more than half their support from the taxpayer.

The total number of exemptions shown in this report includes some duplication. This occurred in the case of--

(1) dependents who had less than $600 gross income, but filed a return to obtain a refund of tax withheld on wages, and

(2) dependents under 19 years of age or students who were required to file a return because their gross incomes were $600 or more.

In each of these instances individuals were counted twice, as taxpayers filing their own returns and as dependents on another taxpayer's return.

Farm net profit or net loss

This source was reported by individuals who were proprietors of a farm. When there were two or more proprietorship farms operated by the taxpayer, the single amount of profit or loss included in adjusted gross income represented the combined profit and loss from farm business activities.

Farm business costs and expenses were deductible from gross farm business receipts in arriving at farm net profit or loss. Gain from sales of livestock held for breeding purposes and of land with unharvested crops was reported on the separate schedule for sales of property (Schedule D) and was not reflected in farm net profit or loss.

Foreign tax credit

A credit against income tax was permitted for foreign taxes paid only if nonbusiness deductions were itemized and the foreign tax was excluded from those deductions. The credit related to the income and profits taxes paid to foreign countries or possessions of the United States and included the taxpayer's share of such taxes paid through partnerships and fiduciaries. In general, the tax credit was limited to the same proportion of the income tax before credits as the taxable income from foreign sources bore to the entire taxable income, but could not exceed the amount of foreign tax paid. Amounts in excess of the limitation could be carried over for use in computing the credit for other years.

Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement

Employers were required to furnish a Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, to each employee from whom income tax was withheld or would have been withheld if the employee had claimed no more than one exemption during calendar year 1969. Forms W-2 showed the amounts of Federal income tax withheld, wages paid subject to withholding, other compensation (amounts includible in gross income but not subject to income tax withholding such as traveling or other expense allowances of employees), and FICA (social security) tax withheld.

See section 1, Returns Filed and Sources of Income, for an explanation of the difference between statistics for items reported on Form W-2 and comparable items reported on the return itself.

General rule method for computation of retirement income credit

Heads of households, returns of

These returns were filed by persons who furnished over half the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one qualifying relative. This classification was available only to unmarried persons, married persons legally separated, or persons married to nonresident aliens.

A special tax rate schedule was provided for head of household which gave approximately half the benefit of the joint return schedule.

Income averaging

The income averaging computation permitted a part of an unusually large amount of taxable income for any one year to be taxed at lower rates, thus resulting in a reduction of the over-all amount of tax due. An eligible individual could choose this computation if his averageable income for the year was more than $3,000.

"Averageable income" was the amount by which "adjusted taxable income" exceeded 133-1/3 percent of "average base period income" (the average of taxable income with certain other adjustments, for the 4 preceding tax years). Briefly, the income averaging computation operated to tax all averageable income at the same rate which applied to the first one-fifth of such income.

"Adjusted taxable income," from which the averageable income was derived, covered all types of taxable income except net long-term capital gains, income from gifts or inheritances, or wagering income. See Schedule G, Income Averaging, reproduced in the section on "Forms and Instructions," for an explanation of the computation involved.

Income subject to tax

For returns with normal tax and surtax, the income subject to tax was "taxable income." For returns with alternative tax computation, the income subject to tax was either:

- (1) Taxable income, when that amount exceeded one-half the excess net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss, or
- (2) One-half excess net long-term capital gain over net short-term capital loss when that amount equaled or exceeded taxable income.

Income tax after credits

Income tax after credits was determined by subtracting statutory credits from the total of income tax before credits and the tax surcharge. It did not include self-employment tax or tax from recomputing prior year investment credit, nor did it take into account refundable credits.

Income tax before credits

Generally, this was the tax liability computed on taxable income based on:

- (1) The regular combined normal tax and surtax including tax from the optional "tax tables,"
- (2) Alternative tax, or
- (3) Tax computed using the income averaging provisions.

Income tax before credits did not include the 10 percent surcharge on tax.

For many returns, income tax before credits had to be derived for the statistics because for 1969 Schedule T, on which income tax before credits was computed, did not always have to be filed with the return.

Income tax withheld

Tax withheld represented amounts deducted by employers from salaries, wages, tips, and other forms of remuneration. An employer could use either the "percentage" or "wage bracket" method in determining the amount to be withheld. Both methods were based on graduated withholding rates ranging from 14 percent to 33 percent.

For 1969, statistics on income tax withheld also include excess social security taxes withheld. If more than $374.40 of social security (FICA) tax was withheld in 1969 from an employee because he worked for more than one employer, the excess could be taken as a credit toward payment of the employee's income tax. In the case of a joint return, the credit was computed separately for each taxpayer.

Increase in tax due to surcharge

See "Surcharge."

Increase in tax credits due to surcharge

Interest received

Interest received was the taxable portion of interest received from bonds, debentures, notes, mortgages, personal loans, bank deposits, and savings accounts. Excluded, for example, was the interest on State and local Government obligations which was tax-exempt and therefore did not have to be reported on the tax return.

Investment credit

In general, the investment credit applied against income tax was 7 percent of a taxpayer's qualified investment in certain new and used depreciable assets, chiefly machinery and equipment, with a useful life of 4 years or more. Qualified investment was defined as cost or basis reduced by:

- (1) one-third if the useful life was at least 6 years but less than 8 years, or
- (2) two-thirds if the useful life was at least 4 years but less than 6 years.

Total qualified investment was limited to $50,000 for used property and was reduced by 4/7 if the investment was in public utility property. Income tax against which the credit was applied was first reduced by the foreign tax and retirement income credits. If the amount of tax remaining was more than $25,000, the credit could not exceed $25,000 plus 50 percent of the tax liability over that amount. Amounts in excess of this limitation could be carried over (or carried back) for a prescribed number of years to be claimed as a credit.

The Tax Reform Act of 1969 provided that the investment credit would no longer be available for property acquired after April 18, 1969 or for property on which construction, reconstruction, or erection began after that date. However, certain exceptions were provided for property constructed or acquired under a binding contract entered into before April 19, 1969. The new law also provided a limitation of 20 percent on unused credits which could be claimed as a carryover to any year after 1968. However, the Act extended the carryover period from 7 to 10 years in certain cases.

Itemized deductions

Itemized deductions from adjusted gross income could be claimed for contributions, interest paid, taxes, medical expenses, and other deductions for which no specific line or schedule was provided on the return. Such other deductions included unreimbursed casualty and theft losses, alimony payments, child care expense, educational expense, and certain expenses connected with the taxpayer's employment.

Itemized deductions were tabulated on returns with positive adjusted gross income even though they were in excess of taxable income. On breakeven or deficit adjusted gross income returns, the taxpayer had already reached a nontaxable state without the necessity of itemizing; consequently, itemized deductions were not tabulated on these returns even though the taxpayer may have entered itemized deductions on his return form.

Joint returns of husbands and wives

These were either returns on which married taxpayers reported their combined income or returns of married taxpayers where only one spouse had income but exemptions of both were claimed. Generally, the filing of a joint return resulted in a tax saving because of "income splitting" which was automatically provided for in the joint return tax rate schedule.

Marginal tax rates

The marginal tax rate was the highest rate used by a taxpayer in computing tax. Since it applied to income in excess of a specified amount, the marginal rate varied from taxpayer to taxpayer. For example, if a joint return showed income subject to tax of $11,000, the tax rate schedule (reproduced in the income tax return facsimile at the end of this report) indicates tax as $1,380 plus 22 percent of the excess of $8,000. The marginal rate in this case was 22 percent, and the income taxed at the marginal rate was $3,000 ($11,000 minus $8,000). See also the example in the text in section 3--Tax Computation and Tax Rates.

Minimum standard deduction

See "Standard deduction."

Miscellaneous income or loss

See "Other sources of income (or loss)."

Normal tax and surtax

The income tax imposed upon taxable income subject to normal tax and surtax rates was divided into a:

- (1) Normal tax of 3 percent of taxable income, and
- (2) Surtax levied on a scale graduated in relation to size of taxable income.

To facilitate computation, the normal tax and surtax rates were combined in the tax tables furnished to the public.

One-half excess long-term gain

Ordinary gain from sales of depreciable property

Included here was that portion of gain not eligible for treatment as a long-term capital gain (under section 1231) from sales of depreciable property specified in sections 1245 and 1250 of the Internal Revenue Code and thereby not qualified to be taxed at the special capital gains rate.

The depreciable property to which section 1245 applied was (1) personal property other than livestock, whether tangible (such as machinery and equipment), or intangible (such as patents or copyrights), and (2) other tangible property including certain realty other than buildings and their structural components, if it was an integral part of certain specified business activities, or which constituted research or storage facilities used in connection with such activities. The business activities qualifying were manufacturing, production, or extraction, or the providing of transportation, communication, electrical energy, gas, water, or sewage disposal services.

The depreciable property to which section 1250 applied was real property not already covered by section 1245. In general, this property consisted of buildings or their structural components in the case of tangible property, or represented leaseholds of land, in the case of intangible property.

The amount of gain on dispositions of property under sections 1245 and 1250, treated as ordinary gain generally depended upon the amount of depreciation claimed on the asset although other factors were also considered in the case of section 1250 dispositions.

Under section 1245, the amount of gain treated as ordinary income was based, generally, on depreciation allowed or allowable after 1961.

Under section 1250, the amount of gain treated as ordinary gain was based, in general, on the depreciation allowed or allowable after 1963. But this "depreciation recapture" was further qualified so that if the property was held for more than 1 year before it was disposed of, ordinary gain was reduced to the difference between the depreciation computed under some accelerated method, and the depreciation computed assuming the straight-line method. If the property was held more than 20 months, the "recapture" was further reduced to a proportion of this difference until, when the property was held for 10 years, the "recapture" as ordinary gain was not applicable at all.

Other sources (net)

Included here were such items as alimony received, prizes, awards, sweepstakes winnings, gambling profits, recovery of bad debts and taxes deducted in a prior year, insurance received as reimbursement for medical expenses taken in a previous year, and any other income subject to tax for which no entry was provided on the return form.

Taxpayers were required to apply any deduction for business net operating losses against "other income." In general, these amounts represented prior year losses of proprietors, partners, and shareholders of Small Business Corporations electing to be taxed through owners that exceeded the adjusted gross income of the loss year.

For 1969, statistics on other sources of income or loss also include amounts shown separately in prior years as statutory adjustments. These were special deductions from gross income used in arriving at adjusted gross income. Included here were the following:

- (1) Sick pay exclusion,
- (2) Self-employed retirement deduction,
- (3) Employee business expense deduction, and
- (4) Employee moving expense deduction.

For 1969, "statutory adjustments" in arriving at adjusted gross income could not always be separately identified. Many low-income taxpayers using Form 1040 for the first time following discontinuance of Form 1040A, the short punchcard form, apparently reported a variety of unrelated items as statutory adjustments including, in some instances, their total personal deductions.

Other tax credits

"Other tax credits" included (1) the credit for withholding on tax-free covenant bond interest allowed only if nonbusiness deductions were itemized, and (2) the "throwback tax credit," whether claimed on a standard or itemized deduction return. Also included were unidentified amounts of retirement income, investment, or foreign tax credits.

The credit for tax-free covenant bonds was for the tax paid on the bond interest by the issuing corporation for the owners. Bonds with a tax-free covenant were issued prior to 1934 and provided that the corporation pay part of the income tax on the interest usually at the rate of 2 percent.

The throwback tax credit was the recipient's pro rata share of taxes paid by a complex trust in preceding tax years which would not have been payable by the trust had the trust in fact distributed income currently to the beneficiaries instead of accumulating it before distribution. Thus, income tax paid on accumulation distributions deemed distributed in prior years was not refunded to the trust but was allowed as a credit against the income tax liability of the recipients.

Credits in excess of the total tax were treated as an overpayment and as such were refundable.

For many returns, "other" tax credits had to be derived for the statistics because for 1969 Schedule T, on which "other" tax credits were shown, did not always have to be filed with the return.

Other taxpayments

Included here for purposes of table 3D in section 3 was the sum of the following taxpayments:

- (1) Income tax withheld (including excess social security taxes withheld), and
- (2) Refundable credits.

Each of the above is described under separate heading.

Overpayment

An overpayment of tax occurred when the sum of the tax withheld, payments on declaration of estimated tax, and refundable taxpayment credits, exceeded the combined income tax after credits, self-employment tax, and tax from recomputing prior year investment credit. Overpayments could be refunded or, at the taxpayer's election, taken as a credit on the subsequent year's estimated tax, or taken partly as a refund and partly as a credit against estimated tax.

Partnership net profit or net loss

Partnership net profit or loss was reported by persons who were members of a partnership, syndicate, joint venture, or association. The taxpayer's profit or loss shown was his share only of the ordinary income or loss of the enterprise together with payments made to him as a salary or for the use of capital. If the individual was a member of more than one partnership, the single amount of partnership profit or loss reported in adjusted gross income, whether actually received or not, was the combination of all his shares.

The ordinary income of the partnership did not include dividends qualifying for the exclusion, net short- and long-term capital gain or loss, and interest on tax-free covenant bonds. The partner's share of each of these items was reported by him in its respective source of income on the return form.

Payments on 1969 declaration of estimated income tax

These payments, summarized on the individual income tax return, were paid with the 1969 Declaration of Estimated Income Tax, Form 1040ES. The amount reported included any credit which was applied against the estimated tax by reason of an overpayment of the 1968 tax liability.

Pensions and annuities

Pensions and annuities represented the taxable portion of the amounts received during the year. The full amount of a pension or annuity received by a retired employee who contributed nothing toward the cost was taxable. If the recipient contributed to the cost, methods were provided for computing the nontaxable amount to be excluded. The method used depended upon the type of pension or annuity but, in general, was designed to estimate the portion of receipts that represented recovery of recipient's cost.

Pensions and annuities, taxable portion

See "Pensions and annuities."

Recovery of cost

Refund

A refund of tax included all overpayments not applied by the taxpayer as a credit to the next year's estimated tax. See "Overpayment."

Refundable credits

"Refundable credits" represented certain nonhighway Federal gasoline taxes or tax withheld by regulated investment companies. Such credits were combined with other prepayments on the tax return, and any amounts in excess of the income tax liability were refundable.

The credit for nonhighway Federal gasoline taxes could be claimed by any individual for Federal taxes paid on:

- (1) gasoline used--
  - (a) on a farm for farming purposes,
  - (b) other than as fuel in a highway vehicle,
  - (c) in furnishing scheduled common carrier public passenger land transportation along regular routes.
- (2) lubricating oil used other than in a highway motor vehicle.

Tax withheld by regulated investment companies was the shareholder's share of taxes withheld on the net long-term capital gain realized by a regulated investment company but not actually distributed. The shareholder was entitled to a credit for the 25 percent tax paid by the company as an offset against the income tax he paid for the year.

Rent net income or loss

Rent net income or loss constituted a part of adjusted gross income and was determined by deducting from gross rents amounts for depreciation, repairs, maintenance, interest, taxes, commissions, advertising, fuel, insurance, janitor service, and other allowable expenses related to the rented property.

Retirement income credit

A credit for "retirement income" was allowed an individual if he received "earned income" of more than $600 in each of any 10 calendar years prior to the tax year for which the credit was computed.

Retirement income for taxpayers under 65 years of age was defined as pension and annuity income received under public retirement systems. Retirement income for taxpayers age 65 or over was defined as all pension and annuity income plus dividends in adjusted gross income, interest, and gross rents.

Two methods were provided for computation of the credit:

- (1) Under the general rule, the tentative credit was 15 percent applied to the lesser of retirement income received during the year or $1,524 for each qualified re-

three (on joint returns, if each spouse met the past earnings and current retirement income requirements, the total retirement income limitation for both was $3,048) reduced by earned income and by social security, railroad retirement, or other tax-free pensions and annuities excluded from gross income, and

(2) An alternative method was available if a husband and wife filed a joint return, were both age 65 or over, and at least one met the earned income requirement. This method provided a $2,286 limitation on the base of the tentative credit. As under the general rule, the base was reduced by earned income and tax-free pension and annuity payments excluded from gross income.

Earned income was defined, in general, as salaries, wages, and other compensation for personal services rendered with certain adjustments based on the taxpayer's age as follows:

(1) Taxpayers under 62 years of age were required to reduce the maximum amount of retirement income for credit computation by earned income in excess of $900,

(2) Taxpayers age 62 but under 72 were required to reduce the maximum amount of retirement income by 50 cents for every dollar earned in excess of $1,200 but less than $1,700; earned income in excess of $1,700 reduced the maximum dollar for dollar,

(3) Taxpayers 72 years of age or older had no reduction for earned income.

The actual credit, however computed, could not exceed the income tax reduced by credits for foreign taxes and for tax withheld on tax-free covenant bond interest. For purposes of the income tax surcharge, taxpayers eligible for the retirement income credit could reduce income tax before credits by the credit and then compute their surcharge on the remaining tax.

Royalty net income or loss

Net royalties consisted of gross royalties less deductions for depletion, depreciation, office rent, legal fees, clerical help, interest, taxes, and similar items. Gross royalties included revenues from oil, gas, and other mineral rights; revenue from patents, copyrights on literary works, trademarks, formulae, and so on.

Salaries and wages (gross)

Gross salaries and wages as reported on the tax return were amounts of compensation for personal services prior to statutory adjustments which reduced salaries and wages by the sick pay exclusion and certain expenses connected with employment. Also included were commissions, bonuses, tips, fees, excess reimbursement over employee business expenses, and the value of nonmonetary payments for services, e.g., merchandise, accommodations, or property. Identifiable amounts for any of these categories which may have been reported by taxpayers in "other sources of income" were treated as salaries and wages for the statistics. Excluded were portions of salaries and wages earned abroad which were tax-exempt under special provisions of the law.

Also shown in this report are data for "Wages and other compensation" as shown on Form W-2. This concept differs slightly from "Salaries and wages" (gross) as reported on Form 1040, as is explained in section 1.

Sales of capital assets

In general, capital assets for tax purposes meant property regarded or treated as an investment, such as stocks, bonds, and nonbusiness real estate including a personal residence. Thus, property held for sale during the ordinary course of business operations and real and depreciable property held in connection with a business were among the property types not covered by the tax definition of capital assets.

If capital assets were held for more than 6 months, only half of the gain on their sale was taxable and in many instances at a rate lower than otherwise (see "Alternative computation of tax"). If sales resulted in a loss, regardless of how long the asset was held, the loss could be completely offset against capital gains and to a limited extent against ordinary income. However, capital losses from sales of property held for personal use were not deductible.

Certain assets used in a business and thus not covered by the definition of capital assets could nevertheless be treated as capital assets under special conditions. Livestock held for breeding purposes, unharvested crops sold with the land they grew on, certain natural resources including timber, and, to a diminishing extent, real and depreciable business property, were among the asset types specifically accorded this treatment.

If held more than 6 months the gain upon sale of these assets received the special capital gains treatment. However, unlike capital assets, sales of these assets were also given preferential treatment when they resulted in a loss. In contrast to a capital loss, such losses were deductible in full during the current year.

For a description of the tax treatment of gains from sales of real and depreciable business assets, see "Ordinary gain from sales of depreciable property."

Net short-term gain or loss.--Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets held 6 months or less were considered to be short-term. To obtain the net short-term gain or loss, gains and losses from current year transactions were combined with--

(1) any capital loss carryover from 1959-1963,

(2) any short-term capital loss carryover from 1964-68, and

(3) any net short-term gain or loss received from partnerships or fiduciaries.

Net long-term gain or loss.--Gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets (or property treated as capital assets) held more than 6 months were considered to be long-term and therefore eligible for special beneficial tax treatment (see "Net gain" below and "Alternative computation of tax"). To obtain the net long-term gain or loss, gains and losses from current year transactions were combined with--

(1) any net long-term gain or loss received from partnerships or fiduciaries,

(2) any capital gain distributions of regulated investment companies, mutual funds and real estate investment trusts,

(3) net long-term gains included in the profits of Small Business Corporations electing to be taxed through shareholders (reduced by the special tax computed at the company level), and

(4) any long-term capital loss carryover from 1964-68.

Short-term capital loss carryover.--This carryover was the unused portion of any net capital loss sustained from 1959-1963 and any net short-term loss sustained since 1963 which exceeded the loss year's net capital gain or the $1,000 maximum net capital loss deduction.

Long-term capital loss carryover.--This carryover was the unused portion of net long-term loss sustained since 1963 which exceeded the loss year's net short-term capital gain or the $1,000 maximum deduction for net capital loss. If both a net short-term loss and net long-term loss were incurred, the net short-term loss was offset first.

Net gain.--In computing the gain in adjusted gross income, the net short-term gain or loss was combined with the net long-term gain or loss and the resultant gain if long-term was reduced 50 percent. The amount of net gain in adjusted gross income conformed to one of several conditions, namely, (a) on returns with a net long-term gain, the amount included in adjusted gross income was 50 percent of the excess net long-term gain over net short-term loss, (b) on returns with only a net long-term gain, 50 percent of the gain, (c) on returns with both net short- and long-term gain, the entire amount of net short-term gain combined with 50 percent of the net long-term gain, (d) on returns with only a net short-term gain, the entire net gain, and (e) on other returns, the entire excess of net short-term gain over net long-term loss.

Net loss.--In computing net loss in adjusted gross income the net short-term gain or loss was merged with the net long-term gain or loss, and the excess loss was allowed to the extent of the smallest of (1) the capital loss, (2) taxable income (adjusted gross income if the "tax table" was used) computed without regard to capital gains and losses and the deduction for personal exemptions, or (3) $1,000.

For additional information on capital gains and losses, by asset type, see Statistics of Income--1962, Supplemental Report, Sales of Capital Assets Reported on Individual Income Tax Returns.

Sales of property other than capital assets, net gain or loss

In general, property other than capital assets related to property of a business nature in contrast to personal investments which were capital assets. Included were sales of property such as inventories and stock in trade; literary, musical, or artistic compositions created by the taxpayer; and losses on sales of depreciable and real property used in a trade or business. Each taxpayer included his share of such gain or loss received through partnerships and fiduciaries. In contrast to capital gain or loss, gain or loss from these transactions were included in their entirety in computing adjusted gross income. Losses on sales or exchanges of small business investment company stock were ordinary losses rather than capital losses. Also, losses on small business stock were ordinary losses to the original holders; however, this ordinary loss was limited to $25,000 on separate returns and $50,000 on joint returns. Gains on sales of small business stock and small business investment company stock were not included in this category, but were shown as capital gains.

Ordinary gain on sales of depreciable property is shown as a separate item.

Self-employment tax

This tax--levied under the Social Security system--was reported by each individual who had self-employment earnings of at least $400 derived from a proprietorship or from his share of partnership profits. Citizens employed by foreign governments or international organizations were subject to self-employment tax on salaries for 1960 and subsequent years. Certain types of income and deductions such as investment income, capital gain or loss, net operating loss deduction, and casualty losses were not allowed in computing self-employment earnings.

The maximum amount subject to self-employment tax for 1969 was $7,800 reduced by any wages on which social security tax had been withheld by an employer. The maximum self-employment tax payable was $538.20 based on the 6.9 percent rate in effect for that year. Nonrefundable income tax credits could not be applied against this tax.

Separate returns of husbands and wives

Generally, these were returns of married persons, each of whom filed a return independent of his spouse and reported only his own income, exemptions, and tax. Also included were returns of married persons where only one spouse had income but elected to use this classification and returns with community income divided between husband and wife.

If either husband or wife filed a separate return, the other spouse's exemption could be claimed on that return, only if the spouse did not file a return, had no gross income, and was not the dependent of another taxpayer.

Single persons, returns of

There were returns of unmarried persons who did not qualify as head of household or surviving spouse.

Small Business Corporation profit or loss

Net income or loss of a qualified Small Business Corporation (defined in section 1371 of the Code), whether or not distributed, was taxed directly through each shareholder.

To qualify as a Small Business Corporation, a company had to be a domestic corporation with no more than ten shareholders, each of which was an individual (or as estate) and no one of which was a nonresident alien. The corporation could have only one class of stock and could not be a member of an affiliated group eligible to file a consolidated return. Also, it could not receive more than 20 percent of its gross receipts from Personal Holding Company income (rent, royalties, interest, annuities, and gains from sales or exchanges of stock and securities), and could not receive more than 80 percent of its gross receipts from sources outside the United States.

The income of the Small Business Corporation shown in this report is the amount taxable to shareholders as ordinary income. Net long-term capital gain, reduced by the special tax imposed at the corporate level, retained its character in the hands of the shareholders and is included in the statistics for net gain or loss from sales of capital assets. Shareholders were allowed to deduct their share of the corporate losses from other forms of individual income. Undistributed income earned in previous years was taxable to shareholders in the year it was earned, and could be distributed during the current year without any further tax.

More detailed information on Small Business Corporations can be found in Statistics of Income--Business Income Tax Returns and Statistics of Income--Corporation Income Tax Returns.

Standard deduction

A taxpayer was allowed a standard deduction in lieu of itemizing his deductible personal expenses. The taxpayer elected the larger of the regular 10 percent standard deduction or the minimum standard deduction. The "regular" deduction was 10 percent of adjusted gross income, and the minimum standard deduction was $200 ($100 for married taxpayers filing separately) plus $100 for each exemption. In neither case could the deduction exceed $1,000, ($500 for married taxpayers filing separately). If married and filing separately, both taxpayers had to elect the same type of standard deduction.

For the following returns, the standard deduction had to be derived for the statistics:

(1) Returns of taxpayers who selected the optional "tax tables" to compute their tax. These taxpayers did not report an amount for standard deduction since the deduction was already built into the tables, and

(2) Returns with which Schedule T, on which the standard deduction was shown, was not filed.

Statutory adjustments

Surcharge

In addition to the regular tax liability, a tax surcharge was imposed for the period January 1, 1969 through December 31, 1969. Figured on an annual basis, the surcharge was 10 percent of income tax reduced by any retirement income credit. Surcharge tables were provided for taxpayers whose regular tax was less than $735.

Some taxpayers who reported income tax before credits did not show a surcharge for the following reasons:

(1) Taxpayers with small amounts of tax, up to $148, $223, or $293, depending on marital status, were exempt from surcharge;

(2) The surcharge was applied at an effective rate of less than 10 percent when tax was less than twice these amounts;

(3) One credit was actually allowed in computing tax for surcharge purposes, the retirement income credit, and in some cases this credit may have been large enough to offset the income tax completely;

Not all of the surcharge resulted in an increase in income tax. This is borne out by table 3.8 which shows the "increase in tax due to surcharge" to be less than the surcharge itself. An increase in the amount of tax credits claimed was the cause. The size of an individual's tax before credits could often determine how much of his allowable credits (e.g. retirement income and investment credits) could actually be used. Since the surcharge like the rest of the income tax could be reduced by credits, the larger total of tax before credits plus the surcharge permitted larger portions of allowable credits to be used. This increase in tax credits was applied against the surcharge.

For many returns, the tax surcharge had to be computed for the statistics because Schedule T, on which the tax surcharge was shown, did not always have to be filed with the return.

The surcharge statistics for 1968 are not directly comparable with the surcharge statistics for 1969. In 1969, the surcharge was not shown as a separate item on many returns (i.e. those of taxpayers who were not required to file a Schedule T); therefore, it was derived for each return on which it was due, even though some taxpayers may have failed to include the amount in their tax computations. For 1968, on the other hand, the surcharge was not derived if not shown by the taxpayer.

Surviving spouses, returns of

These returns were filed by widows or widowers whose spouse had died during either of the two preceding tax years, who had not remarried, and who had maintained a home which was the principal abode of a child or stepchild for whom the taxpayer was entitled to an exemption.

Surviving spouse taxpayers could use the joint return tax rates for the two taxable years following the year of death of the spouse; however, the deceased spouse could not be claimed as an exemption, except for the year of death. Thereafter, the special rates for surviving spouse halfway between the joint and single return tax rates applied.

Tax credits

Included here were the following credits applied against income tax:

- (1) Retirement income credit,
- (2) Investment credit,
- (3) Foreign tax credit, and
- (4) "Other" tax credits.

Each of the above is described under separate heading.

Tax due at time of filing

Tax due was reported on returns where the tax withheld and the payment on declarations of estimated tax (together with other prepayment credits reported with them) were insufficient to cover the total of income tax after credits (which included the surcharge), self-employment tax, and tax from recomputing prior year investment credit.

The balance of tax due was payable upon filing with all Forms 1040 showing adjusted gross income of $5,000 or more. Taxpayers with income under $5,000 which consisted only of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and other wages, and who did not claim any statutory adjustments could elect to have the Internal Revenue Service compute their tax and be billed for any balance due. Other taxpayers with income under $5,000 were required to remit any balance due with their Form 1040.

Tax from recomputing prior year investment credit

The investment credit provisions of the law included a "recapture rule" which required taxpayers to pay back all or a portion of any investment credit taken on property disposed of before the end of the useful life claimed in computing the credit. The law specified that if property qualifying for credit was disposed of before the end of its estimated useful life, the tax for the year of disposal was increased by the difference between the credit originally allowed and the credit that would have been allowed if the computation had been on a shorter useful life.

Unless a credit was refundable, it could not be applied against this tax.

Taxable income

Taxable income was the amount to which tax rates were usually applied in arriving at income tax before credits. It was determined by subtracting from adjusted gross income itemized deductions or the standard deduction and the number of personal exemptions claimed multiplied by $600.

For many returns, taxable income had to be derived for the statistics because Schedule T, on which taxable income was shown, did not always have to be filed with the return.

Taxpayments

These payments were, in effect, made before the return was filed and were applied against tax liability to determine the amount payable. They included the following:

(1) Income tax withheld (including excess social security taxes withheld),

- (2) Refundable credits, and
  - (3) Payments on 1969 declarations of estimated tax.
- Taxpayments in excess of total tax were refundable. Each of the above is described under separate heading.

Tax savings due to income averaging

In this report the amount of tax savings is the difference between the tax resulting from the income averaging computation, usually shown on Schedule G, and the amount of tax that would result if the income averaging provisions were not used.

Tax withheld

See "Income tax withheld."

Ten Percent Standard Deduction

See "Standard deduction."

Tentative credit

See "Retirement income credit."

Total deductions

This classification included personal deductions, both standard and itemized.

Total tax liability

Total tax liability was the sum of:

- (1) Income tax after credits (including surcharge), plus
- (2) Self-employment tax, plus
- (3) Tax from recomputing prior year investment credit.

SOURCES OF DATA

Individual income tax data in this report were estimated from a sample of unaudited tax returns, Forms 1040, filed by U.S. citizens and residents and revenue-processed during the calendar year 1970 in the service centers and district offices of the Internal Revenue Service and at the Office of International Operations in the National Office.

The statistics in this report are intended to represent the total returns for income year 1969. While the overwhelming majority of returns revenue-processed in 1970 were for calendar year 1969, a few of them were for non-calendar years ended during 1969 and 1970, and some others were delinquent returns for prior years. Prior year delinquent returns were used for the 1969 statistics in place of 1969 returns processed after December 31, 1970. In general, the characteristics of returns due but not yet filed could be represented best by the returns for previous income years that were processed in 1970.

All returns processed during 1970 were subjected to sampling, with a few exclusions. The exclusions consisted of tentative returns and amended returns for income year 1969, and certain returns for prior years. Tentative returns were not subjected to sampling because the revised returns may have been sampled later on, while amended returns were excluded because the original returns were already subjected to sampling. With the exception of returns filed at the Office of International Operations, returns for income years prior to 1962 (generally speaking, a very small number) were excluded to simplify sampling procedures.

An individual income tax return was required of (1) every citizen or resident alien of the U.S., and every bona fide resident of Puerto Rico, under 65 years of age (including minors), who had $600 or more of "gross income" for the year, (2) every citizen or resident 65 years of age or over who had $1,200 or more gross income for the year, and (3) every person, regardless of age or gross income, who had self-employment income of $400 or more during the tax year. Gross income, for purposes of filing, included income earned from sources outside the United States, even though the income was exempt from tax. However, in the case of individuals who were residents of Puerto Rico, gross income, for purposes of filing, did not include income derived from sources within Puerto Rico, except amounts received for services performed as an employee of the United States Government.

Individuals who had tax withheld from wages, but whose income was less than that required for filing, usually filed to obtain a refund of tax withheld, although they were not otherwise required to file.

DESCRIPTION OF THE SAMPLE AND LIMITATIONS OF THE DATA

Description of the Sample

The data presented for individual income tax returns for tax year 1969 are estimates based on a stratified sample of all Form 1040 returns processed in the calendar year 1970. The total sample consisted of 254,166 returns, about three-tenths of one percent of the total number processed for the year.

Sample selection

All returns filed with the seven Internal Revenue service centers, the 58 district offices, and with the Office of International Operations were initially grouped for revenue processing based on the presence or absence of business schedules. However, special criteria were needed for sampling.

For this purpose, service center and district office returns were stratified by computer in each service center based on size of adjusted gross income or deficit, total business receipts, and the largest source of income or loss. Sampling of nonbusiness returns was based on size of adjusted gross income or deficit or the largest source of income or loss; whereas sampling of business returns was based on (1) adjusted gross income or deficit, or largest source of income or loss, and (2) total business receipts. In order for returns to fall within a sample stratum, all sampling criteria for that stratum had to be satisfied.

Returns filed with the Office of International Operations fell into two groups: (1) Returns for income year 1969 were computer-designated at the Mid-Atlantic Service Center based on the criteria previously stated, and (2) Returns for income years prior to 1969 were selected manually in the National Office based entirely on size of adjusted gross income.

In all seven Internal Revenue service centers, the actual selection of returns was accomplished using specified ending digits of an individual's social security number randomly chosen according to the sampling rate prescribed for that stratum. In the Office of International Operations, returns for income year 1969 were selected using the individual's social security number, whereas the returns for income years prior to 1969 were selected using account numbers assigned to the returns shortly after they were filed.

All sampling criteria and strata are described in table 7A along with the number of returns processed per stratum, the number of returns in the sample, and the prescribed and achieved sampling rates.

Differences between the prescribed and achieved sampling rates occurred for the following reasons:

(1) Not all returns designated for the sample could be obtained even after followup,

(2) Social security number ending digits used for sample selection were not distributed equally throughout each Internal Revenue Region,

(3) If the characteristics of the return varied considerably from the criteria of the assigned sampling stratum, then the return might be reassigned to another sample stratum. However, none of the returns was reassigned to a sample stratum which called for a larger weight than that required by the sample stratum in which it was originally included.

Method of estimation

The total number of returns per stratum was obtained from counts of returns filed at district offices and service centers throughout each of the seven Internal Revenue Regions and at the Office of International Operations. The adequacy of response was reviewed, by sample stratum, by applying the prescribed rates to the number of returns actually received from each location. When receipts differed considerably from the number expected, a followup was conducted.

Sampling weights were obtained by dividing the number of returns filed per sample stratum by the number of sample returns actually received for the stratum. Achieved sampling rates varied sufficiently among Internal Revenue Districts to necessitate using different sampling weights for each District for the production of tables with geographic distributions. Therefore, totals in national tables differ somewhat from corresponding totals derived from State data.

All sampling weights were converted to integer weighting factors which were then applied to each sample return by a procedure exemplified as follows: if the achieved sampling weight was 10.28 in a given sample stratum, 28 percent of the sample returns in the stratum were given a weighting factor of 11, and 72 percent, a weight of 10.

Integer weighting allows detailed weighted frequencies to add consistently to their appropriate totals in all tables since no rounding is involved. This facilitates later review of the data and assists users in following the same frequency from table to table. However, integer weights may also be used for returns not classified by size of adjusted gross income.

The conservative nature of the relative sampling variability estimates shown in table 7B may be illustrated by comparing an estimate from column 1 of this table with the calculated, more precise, relative sampling variability for a similar number of returns shown in table 7C. If 5,000,000 were the number of returns with adjusted gross income under $10,000, then the relative sampling variability obtained from column 1 of table 7B would be expected to be less than 1.8 percent. But the conservative nature of this relative sampling variability estimate may be illustrated by comparing it with the calculated, more precise, relative sampling variability estimates in table 7C for a similar number of returns in a specific adjusted gross income class. Thus, table 7C shows that for the 5,139,934 returns in the "$1,000 under $2,000" adjusted gross income class, the relative sampling variability is only 1.68 percent.

Frequencies and amounts considered subject to excessive sampling variability are not shown in the tables although they are reflected in the appropriate totals. Where sampling variability was judged to be excessive, data in particular cells have been deleted or have been combined for a group of cells. The data were combined in such a manner that the combined sampling variability was not considered excessive. Where deletions were made in tables, the applicable cells are noted with an asterisk. Where combinations of data were made, the combined totals are presented beside the bracketed cells to which they relate.

Other limitations due to sampling

A dash, rather than a frequency or amount, in any given table cell indicates either that there were no returns with the particular characteristic, or because of its rarity, instances of the characteristic were not present among the returns selected for the sample. However, for statistics based on returns selected for the sample at a rate of 100 percent, a dash indicates a presumption of no returns with the particular characteristic.

Sample management and non-sampling controls

An extensive system of sample management and control was used by the National Office Statistics Division to insure the selection of the prescribed sample and to provide counts of the number of returns filed in each sample class. Sample controls for the most detailed sampling groups were maintained for each Internal Revenue district office.

In editing, transcribing, and tabulating the information from the sampled returns, checks were imposed to improve the quality of the resulting estimates. Returns that showed data in accompanying schedules but not on the appropriate lines of the return forms and returns with obvious mathematical errors were edited and properly adjusted.

The quality of the statistical editing performed at the Internal Revenue Service Centers, was subject to verification (and correction) consistent with a prescribed plan. Under the plan, which was flexible according to the

Limitations of the Data

Sampling variability

Unless based on all of the returns in the population each entry in the tables of this report is based on a sample and can be expected to differ more or less from the corresponding value that would be obtained by aggregating data from the total number of returns. A statistical measure that pertains to the difference that might be expected to result is called the "standard deviation of the estimate."

The "relative sampling variability" is the standard deviation of the estimate expressed as a percent of the estimate. The standard deviation when added to and subtracted from the estimate provides the computed upper and lower limits within which approximately two out of three estimates derived from similarly selected samples would be expected to fall. Table 7C at the end of this section, shows the relative sampling variability of selected frequency and amount estimates based on the standard formula. "Upper limit" relative sampling variability estimates based on a special formula are shown in table 7B for frequency estimates in general. These percents are somewhat higher than ones which would have been yielded by the standard formula. Column 1 of table 7B do not have the same effect on dollar amounts. This is because dollars per return were later rounded to thousands during statistical processing. Nevertheless, efforts were made to establish "control totals" of those dollar amounts that appear in more than one national table and these totals were substituted in other tables for the convenience of the user.

A comparison of the estimated number of returns shown in the national tables of this report with the number of returns reported filed, as shown in table 7A, will disclose slight differences. These differences occur for the following reasons: (1) an estimated 555,500 returns were excluded from the tables because they showed no income information and (2) returns were classified into the proper size classes during tabulation regardless of the strata to which they were assigned for sampling purposes.

proficiency of the editors, screening and fractional sampling were used to determine the returns to be verified.

In order to provide measures of accuracy of the statistical processing and secure greater consistency among the processing centers, a sub-sample of the returns and abstract sheets were independently reprocessed in the Statistics Division. Data generated under this program were utilized to clarify the editing instructions and to inform the processing centers of the findings.

Key punching of all data was also key verified in the service center. Prior to tabulation at the Internal Revenue Service Data Center, numerous tests for internal consistency were designated by the Statistics Division and were applied to the data by computer. This assured that proper balance and relationships among the return items and statistical classifications were maintained.

Finally, prior to publication, all statistics were reviewed for accuracy and reasonableness, in light of provisions of tax law, taxpayer reporting variations and limitations, economic conditions, comparability with other statistical series, and statistical techniques used in data processing.

However, the controls maintained over the selection of the sample returns, the processing of the source data, and the review of the statistics did not completely eliminate the possibility of error. In addition, practical operating considerations necessitated allowance of reasonable tolerances in the statistical processing of the data.

Watch for Tax Law Changes

At the time this tax package was printed, Congress was considering proposals to change several tax law provisions. If these proposals become law, you may have to take them into account in computing your 1969 income tax.

Internal Revenue will use news and other media to provide supplemental advice and instructions for those affected by the new legislation.

This package contains forms and schedules which appear in the following order:

Form 1040—U.S. Individual Income Tax Return
Schedule A—Itemized Deductions
Schedule B—Dividend and Interest Income
Schedule D—Sales or Exchanges of Property
Schedule E—Supplemental and Miscellaneous Income
Schedule R—Retirement Income Credit
Schedule T—Tax Computation

A Special Message to Taxpayers

You will find a new, one-page Form 1040 in your tax package this year. It takes the place of the card Form 1040A and the old Form 1040. We think it contains the best features of both.

We have done away with the card Form 1040A because many taxpayers, in choosing this short form, denied themselves tax advantages to which they were entitled. It did not provide space for them to claim such benefits as itemized deductions, exclusions for sick pay, retirement income credit, and reduced tax rates for heads of households.

The new Form 1040 has the advantage of being short—only a single page. Except for a few lines it asks for the same information as the old 1040A. At the same time it gives taxpayers an opportunity to claim the benefits to which they are entitled.

Nearly half of the 75 million taxpayers who file individual income tax returns will need to use only this one-page Form 1040.

The tax package also takes into account the situations of taxpayers who need to furnish more information than the one-page Form 1040 calls for. We have included in the package a series of schedules. Each taxpayer can fill out, in addition to the new Form 1040, only the schedules he needs and then discard the rest.

The inside of this cover has an Index which shows the pages where instructions for the forms and schedules can be found. Instructions are printed on the back of the schedules to which they apply. However, where the instructions require more space, we have carried them over to the backs of extra copies of schedules in order to save the cost of printing additional pages.

We have tried to write the instructions so that the great majority of taxpayers can fill out the 1040 themselves. If, however, the instructions leave any of your questions unanswered, please call your local Internal Revenue Service office.

One final word: This year, we are asking taxpayers to fasten their W-2's to the back of the tax form.

It is our hope that the new "building-block 1040" will not only encourage you to take full advantage of the tax benefits the law provides but will also make the job of filling out your tax forms a little easier.

We've combined Forms 1040 and 1040A:

There are nearly 75 million people who file income tax returns. They have different kinds of income, different kinds of deductions, credits, and exclusions. No one form can possibly suit all of them. That's why we have developed a new return system that takes the place of both the old Form 1040 and the old Form 1040A. It is a building-block system. You start with a basic one-page form (still called Form 1040). Nearly half of the taxpayers will need no other forms. The other half will add special schedules or forms only as they need them.

Attach Copy B of Form W-2 here.

How to Prepare Your Return

- Fill out the new Form 1040—whether or not you need to attach any schedules. Usually you can file a complete return on the one-page form, if:
  - All your income was from wages, dividends (not more than $100), and interest (not more than $100),
  - AND you have no adjustments for:
    - Sick pay
    - Moving expenses
    - Employee business expenses
    - Payments as a self-employed person to a retirement plan, AND
    - You do not itemize deductions.

- Add the following schedule(s) as required—

1. Schedule A if you:
  - Itemize deductions.
2. Schedule B if you:
  - Have gross dividends and other distributions on stock in excess of $100.
  - Have interest income in excess of $100.
3. Schedule C if you:
  - Have income (or loss) from a business (other than a farm) to include in line 14.
4. Schedule D if you:
  - Have gains (or loss) from sales or exchanges of property to include in line 14.
5. Schedule E if you have income from:

(To include in line 14.)

  - Pensions or annuities
  - Rents or royalties,
  - Partnerships, estates or trusts, small business corporations, or miscellaneous sources.
6. Schedule F if you:
  - Have farm income (or loss) to include in line 14.
7. Schedule G if you:
  - Claim the benefits of Income averaging.
8. Schedule R if you:
  - Claim a retirement income credit.
9. Schedule SE if you:
  - Report net earnings from self-employment.
10. Schedule T if you:
  - Are subject to self-employment tax,
  - Are subject to tax from recomputing prior year investment credit,
  - Claim a retirement income credit
  - Claim investment credit
  - Claim foreign tax credit.

Income adjustments—

Line 15b.—Your income can be reduced by the following adjustments:

- Sick pay (attach Form 2440)
- Moving Expenses (attach Form 3903)
- Employee business expenses (attach Form 2106)
- Payments to self-employment retirement plans (attach Form 2950SE).

Rules for IRS computation of tax—

If line 15a is under $5,000 and consisted only of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 of dividends, interest, and nonwithheld wages, and you are not claiming any adjustments on line 15b, you can have IRS figure your tax by omitting lines 16, 17, 18, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, and 26 (but complete line 19). If you are filing a joint return, show husband's income and wife's income separately in the space to the right of line 15c. Identify husband's income by marking (H) and wife's income by marking (W).

Note: If the IRS figures your tax and surcharge, the law does not permit the IRS to allow you the benefits of: (1) the retirement income credit, (2) head of household or surviving spouse status, and (3) minimum standard deduction, if you are married and filing a separate return. If you are entitled to any of these benefits, it is to your advantage to figure your own tax and surcharge.

Where to Get Forms.—As far as practical, the forms are mailed directly to taxpayers. You may obtain additional forms from an Internal Revenue Service office, and at many banks and post offices. However, there are some specialized forms that are only available at Internal Revenue Service offices including the following:

- Form 1310, Statement of Claimant to Refund Due—Deceased Taxpayer;
- Form 2106, Employee Business Expenses;
- Form 2120, Multiple Support Declaration;
- Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals;
- Form 2440, Sick-Pay Exclusion;
- Form 2441, Expenses for Care of Children and Certain Other Dependents;
- Form 3903, Moving Expense Adjustment;
- Form 4136, Computation of Credit for Federal Tax on Gasoline and Lubricating Oil; and
- Form 4137, Computation of Social Security Tax on Unreported Tip Income.

You may also obtain publications referred to in these instructions from the District Director.

Who Must File.—Every citizen or resident of the United States—whether an adult or minor—who had $600 or more income must file; except that if you are 65 or over, you must file if you had income of $1,200 or more.

You must also file a return and pay any tax due if you have net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more. See Schedule SE.

Where to File.—With the Internal Revenue Service Center for your region. Use envelope mailed to you or see 1040-1 for addresses.

When to File.—As soon as possible after January 1 but not later than April 15.

How to Pay.—Make check or money order payable to "Internal Revenue Service" for full amount on line 24. Write your social security number on your check or money order. If line 24 is less than $1, do not pay.

Refund Under $1.—Will be refunded only upon written request.

Earned Income From Sources Outside the United States.—Income earned from sources outside the United States must be included to determine if you must file an income tax return, even though the income may be excludable. If you received such income, attach Form 2555.

Social Security Number (SSN).—If your social security number as shown on the label is incorrect or you did not receive a labeled return, enter your correct social security number in the space provided on the return. If you are married, also enter your wife's (husband's) number.

If you have no number, file application Form SS-5 with the local office of the Social Security Administration early enough to make certain you receive your card before the deadline for filing your return. If you do not receive your card in time, file your return when due and enter "Applied for" in the space provided for the number.

Members of Armed Forces.—A member of the Armed Forces should give his name, social security number, permanent home address, and serial number (if different from SSN).

Rounding Off to Whole Dollars.—The money items on your return and schedules may be shown in whole dollars. To do this, eliminate any amount less than 50 cents and increase any amount from 50 cents through 99 cents to the next higher dollar.

Deceased Taxpayers.—If a person died in 1969, or in 1970 before filing a return for 1969, the executor, administrator, or surviving wife (husband) must file a return for the decedent. An executor or administrator may elect to file a joint return with the surviving wife (husband). If an executor or administrator has not been appointed, the survivor may file a joint return and indicate in the signature area that she (he) is filing as surviving wife (husband).

Enter the date of death in the name and address area. If a refund is due, attach Form 1310.

Attachments to the Return.—Fill in all applicable items of income, adjustments, tax computation and deductions on the official return forms and schedules. If you need more space, attach statements following the format of the official forms and attach them in the same order. Also enter the totals shown on the supporting statements on the appropriate lines of the official forms.

Form W-2 Missing or Incorrect.—Only your employer can issue or correct a Form W-2. If you have not received a Form W-2 by January 31, or if Form W-2 is incorrect, contact your employer as soon as possible.

Signature and Verification.—You have not filed a valid return unless you sign it. Husband and wife both must sign a joint return.

Any person(s), firm or corporation who prepares a taxpayer's return for compensation must also sign. If a firm or corporation prepares the return it should be signed in the name of the firm or corporation.

The verification is not required if the return is prepared by a regular, full-time employee of the taxpayer, such as a clerk, secretary, bookkeeper.

Instructions for Schedule A (Form 1040)—1969

Itemized vs. Standard Deduction.—Deductions may be itemized for medical and dental expenses, certain taxes, charitable and other contributions, interest expense, casualty losses, child care, and other items described here. If you take the standard deduction, you will get an amount equal to 10 percent of the income you report on line 15c of Form 1040, but not less than $200 plus $100 for each exemption claimed on line 10 of Form 1040 (subtract $100 if married and filing separately). The maximum standard deduction is $1,000 ($500 if married and filing separately).

Medical and Dental Expenses

You can deduct, within the limits of lines 1, 3 and 7, the amounts you paid during the year (not compensated by hospital, health or accident insurance, or otherwise) for medical or dental expenses for yourself, your wife, or any dependent who received over half of his support from you whether or not the dependent had $600 or more income.

If you pay someone for both nursing and domestic duties, you can deduct only the nursing cost.

You Can Deduct Payments To or For.—Physicians, dentists, nurses, and other professional practitioners; drugs or medicines; hospitals; transportation necessary to get medical care; eyeglasses, artificial teeth, medical or surgical appliances, braces, etc.; X-ray examinations or treatment; premiums on hospital or medical insurance; and meals and lodging if part of cost of care in a hospital or similar institution.

You Cannot Deduct Payments For.—Funeral expenses and cemetery plot; illegal operations or drugs; travel ordered or suggested by your doctor for rest or change; premiums on life insurance; cosmetics.

Medical Care Insurance.—You can deduct an amount equal to one-half of the insurance premiums paid (but not more than $150) without regard to the limitation on line 7. The other one-half, plus any excess over the $150 limit, is deductible subject to the 3 percent limitation shown on line 7. The $4 monthly payments for supplementary medical insurance under "Medicare" are deductible, but the hospital insurance benefits tax that is included as part of the social security tax and withheld from wages or paid on self-employment income is not deductible.

The 1 percent and 3 percent limitations (see lines 3 and 7) apply in all cases, regardless of your age, or the age of your wife or other dependents.

Taxes

You can deduct general State or local retail sales taxes if they are imposed directly upon the consumer, or if they are imposed on the retailer (or wholesaler in case of gasoline taxes) and the amount of the tax is separately stated by the retailer. In certain cases, you may also deduct State or local selective sales or excise taxes, even though not part of a general sales tax (or tax similar to a general sales tax), if imposed at the general rate of that tax. Average general sales tax tables are provided.

If the amount you paid for your automobile tags is based on the value of the automobile, you can deduct the part based on the value of the automobile as personal property tax.

If you had any other deductible tax which does not fall in one of the five categories shown, describe the tax and enter below "Personal property."

Deduct business Federal taxes, or any taxes paid in connection with a business or profession in Schedules C, E, or F.

You Can Deduct.—Real estate taxes; State and local gasoline taxes; general sales taxes; State and local income taxes; and personal property taxes.

You Cannot Deduct.—Any Federal excise taxes on your personal expenditures, such as taxes on transportation, telephone, gasoline, etc.; Federal social security taxes; hunting licenses, dog licenses; auto inspection fees, tags, drivers licenses; water taxes; taxes you paid for another person; alcoholic beverage, cigarette, and tobacco taxes; or selective sales or excise taxes (such as those on admissions, room occupancy, etc.) even if they are separately stated or imposed on the purchaser, unless imposed at the same rate as the general sales tax.

In general, you cannot deduct taxes assessed for pavements or other improvements, including front-foot benefits, which tend to increase the value of your property.

State Gasoline Tax Table

You may figure the deduction for State tax on gasoline used in your car by using the following table that is based on information available as of August 15, 1969. If all or part of your mileage was driven in a four-cylinder (or less) car, the deduction for that mileage should be one-half of the table amount.

If you can establish that you paid a larger amount, you are entitled to deduct that amount.
Find the rate of gasoline tax for your State in the list below. If the rate of gasoline tax changed in 1969, find the deduction for mileage driven at each rate, and add the two amounts.

Contributions

You Can Deduct Gifts to.—(a) Religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary organizations, and organizations for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, unless the organization is operated for personal profit, or a substantial part of its activities consists of propaganda or attempting to influence legislation.

(b) Fraternal organizations if the gifts are to be used for charitable, religious, etc., purposes.

(c) Certain veterans' organizations.

(d) Governmental agencies that will use the gifts exclusively for public purposes, including civil defense.

Civil defense volunteers may deduct unreimbursed expenses paid for gasoline and other expenses of participation in official civil defense activities.

A contribution may be made in cash (checks, money orders, etc.) or property (not services). If in property, give description of the property, date of gift, and method of valuation except for securities. In addition, for each gift valued at more than $200, state any conditions attached to the gift; manner of acquisition and cost or other basis if owned by you less than 5 years; and attach a signed copy of appraisal, if any. Publication 561, Valuation of Donated Property, furnishes information and guidelines relative to appraisals (Continued on A-2) of contributed property. A special rule is provided to determine the amount deductible in the case of a gift of depreciable property described in sections 1245 and 1250 of the Internal Revenue Code. (See instructions on D-1 for definition of sections 1245 and 1250 property.) Generally, a charitable deduction for a transfer of a future interest in tangible personal property is not allowed until the entire interest has been transferred.

The deduction for contributions may generally not exceed 20 percent of line 15c, Form 1040. An additional 10 percent is allowable for contributions to churches, a convention or association of churches, tax-exempt educational institutions, tax-exempt hospitals, certain medical research organizations, certain college or university endowment associations; and organizations referred to in paragraph (a) that are "publicly supported," as well as organizations referred to in paragraph (d) on A-1. Attach computation.

If your contributions exceed 30 percent of line 15c, Form 1040, consult an Internal Revenue Service office for a possible carryover deduction. If you have contributions carried over from a prior year or years, enter them on line 13, Schedule A. Attach computation.

If you supported a student in your home under a written agreement with a charitable or educational institution, you may be entitled to deduct as a contribution part or all of the amounts you spent to maintain him.

You Can Deduct Gifts To.—Churches, including assessments paid; Salvation Army, Red Cross, and CARE; United Funds and Community Chests; nonprofit schools and hospitals; certain veterans' organizations; Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other similar organizations; and nonprofit organizations primarily engaged in research or education for the alleviation and cure of diseases and disabilities such as asthma, cancer, cerebral palsy, cystic fibrosis, diseases of the heart, diabetes, hemophilia, mental illness and mental retardation, multiple sclerosis, muscular dystrophy, poliomyelitis, tuberculosis, etc.

You Cannot Deduct Gifts To.—Relatives, friends, or other individuals; foreign organizations; political organizations or candidates; social clubs; labor unions; chambers of commerce; or propaganda organizations.

Interest Expense

You Can Deduct Interest On.—Such non-business items as your personal note to a bank or an individual; a mortgage on your home; a life insurance loan (if interest is paid in cash); and delinquent taxes; on Schedule A. Interest paid on business debts should be reported in the separate schedule in which your business income is reported. For additional information concerning interest expenses including "Points," see Publication 545, Income Tax Deduction for Interest Expense.

You Cannot Deduct Interest On.—Indebtedness of another person when you are not legally liable for payment of the interest; a gambling debt or other nonenforceable obligation; a life insurance loan, if interest is added to the loan and you report on the cash basis.

Do not deduct interest paid on money borrowed to buy tax-exempt securities or single-premium life insurance. Do not include such items as carrying charges and insurance, which are not deductible, and taxes that may be deductible but which should be itemized separately.

If interest charges are not stated separately on installment purchases of personal property (such as automobiles, televisions, etc.), you may deduct an amount equal to 6 percent of the average unpaid monthly balance.

Miscellaneous Deductions

Care of Children and Other Dependents.—Subject to certain limitations, expenses paid for the care of children and certain other dependents are deductible if the purpose of such care is to enable you to be gainfully employed or to actively seek gainful employment. To qualify for the deduction, you must be a woman or a widower (including a man who is divorced or legally separated under a decree and who has not remarried) or a husband whose wife is incapacitated or is institutionalized for at least 90 consecutive days or a shorter period if she dies.

Limitations.—This deduction is not to exceed a total of $600 for one dependent or $900 for two or more dependents and must be for the care of:

(a) dependent children under 13 years of age; or

(b) dependent persons (excluding husband or wife) physically or mentally incapable of caring for themselves;

For a married woman, the deduction is allowed if:

(a) she files a separate return because she has been deserted by her husband, does not know, and did not know his whereabouts at any time during the year, and has applied to a court to compel him to pay support or otherwise to comply with the law or a judicial order; or

(b) she files a joint return with her husband, in which case the deduction is reduced by the amount (if any) by which their combined income on Form 1040, line 15c, exceeds $6,000. This limitation does not apply to expenses incurred while the husband is incapable of self-support due to mental or physical incapacity.

In case of a husband whose wife is incapacitated, the deduction is allowed if he files a joint return with his wife. Then, the deduction is reduced by the amount (if any) by which their combined income on Form 1040, line 15c, exceeds $6,000. This limitation does not apply to expenses incurred if the wife is institutionalized for at least 90 consecutive days, or for a shorter period if she dies.

Do not deduct any child care payments to a person for whom you claim an exemption.

If the person who receives the payment performs duties not related to dependent care, you may deduct only that part of the payment which is for dependent care.

Attach Form 2441, or a statement setting forth all pertinent information.

Casualty Losses and Thefts.—You can deduct a net loss resulting from the destruction of your property in a fire, storm, automobile accident, shipwreck, or other losses caused by natural forces, limited to the amount in excess of $100 for each loss. Damage to your car by collision or accident can be deducted if due to faulty driving, but cannot be deducted if due to your willful act or willful negligence. You can also deduct losses due to theft, but not losses due to mislaying or losing articles.

The amount of loss to be deducted is measured by the fair market value of the property just before the casualty, less its fair market value immediately after the casualty (but not more than the cost or other adjusted basis of the property), reduced by any insurance or compensation received and the $100 limitation. Attach a detailed explanation of each casualty.

You Can Deduct Losses On.—Property such as your home, clothing, or automobile destroyed or damaged by fire; property, including cash, which is stolen; property lost or damaged by flood, lightning, storm, explosion, or freezing.

You Cannot Deduct Losses On.—Personal injury to yourself or another person; accidental loss of cash or other personal property; property lost in storage or in transit; damage by rust, gradual erosion or deterioration; or animals or plants damaged or destroyed by disease.

Expenses for Education.—You may deduct expenses for education if they are not personal expenditures or do not constitute an inseparable aggregate of personal and capital expenditures and are for education which:

(a) Maintains or Improves skills required in your employment or other trade or business, or

(b) Meets the express requirements of your employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition to the retention of your established salary, status, or employment.

Expenses incurred for education which: (a) is required in order to meet the minimum educational requirements for qualification in an employment or other trade or business; or (b) is part of a program of study being pursued which will lead to qualifying for a new trade or business, are personal expenses or constitute an inseparable aggregate of personal and capital expenditures, and, therefore, are not deductible.

The rules for reporting deductible education expenses are the same as those on E-2 for employee business expenses. (See Publication 508, Tax Information on Educational Expenses.)

Other.—You can deduct several other types of expenses under "Miscellaneous deductions."

If you work for wages or a salary, you can deduct your ordinary and necessary employee business expenses that you have not claimed on line 15b, Form 1040.

You can deduct all ordinary and necessary expenses connected with the production or collection of income, or for the management or protection of property held for the production of income.

If you are divorced or legally separated and are making periodic payments of alimony or separate maintenance under a court decree, you can deduct these amounts. Periodic payments made under either (a) a written separation agreement entered into after August 16, 1954, or (b) a decree for support entered after March 1, 1954, are also deductible. Such payments must be included in the wife's income. You cannot deduct any voluntary payments not made under a court order or a written separation agreement, lump-sum settlements, or specific maintenance payments for support of minor children.

You may deduct gambling losses only to the extent of gambling winnings.

You can deduct cost of safety equipment, tools, and supplies used in your job; dues to unions or professional societies; business entertainment; and fees to employment agencies for securing employment.

You Cannot Deduct Cost Of.—Travel to and from work or entertaining friends.

Instructions for Schedule B (Form 1040)—1969

Dividend Income

Line 1—Gross Dividends and Other Distributions on Stock.—If you own stock, you must report any payments (dividends) you receive out of the company's earnings and profits. Usually dividends are paid in cash, but if paid in merchandise or other property they are taxable at their fair market value.

If you received gross dividends and other distributions as a stockholder (including capital gain dividends and nontaxable distributions) in excess of $100, list in line 1, Part I, Schedule B the gross amounts received. If $100 or less, Schedule B is not required. Include gross amounts received either directly or through a nominee or other intermediary, as a member of a partnership or as a beneficiary of an estate or trust. If you received dividends through a nominee or other intermediary, list his name.

Dividends from mutual insurance companies which are a reduction of premiums are not to be included. So-called "dividends" paid by savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, cooperative banks, and credit unions on deposits or withdrawable accounts are earnings (interest) and should be reported as interest.

Special rules apply to stock dividends, liquidations, stock rights, conversions and redemptions. They are discussed in Publication 550, Tax Information on Investment Income and Expenses.

Line 3—Capital Gain Distributions.—Enter on this line all capital gain dividends. Also include any amounts received as return of capital which exceed the cost (or other basis) of your stock, even though such amounts are designated as nontaxable distributions by the paying corporations. The amounts included on this line must also be included in line 1, Part I, Schedule B, and reported on the appropriate lines of separate Schedule D.

Line 4—Nontaxable Distributions.—Enter on this line the total of nontaxable distributions (return of capital) not included in line 3. Amounts reported here cannot exceed the cost (or other basis) of your stock in paying corporations since amounts received in excess of cost (or other basis) are taxable as gains and must be reported on separate Schedule D as indicated in line 3, above. Any amount entered on line 4 must also be included in line 1, Part I, Schedule B.

Dividends Exclusion

You may exclude on Form 1040, line 12b, up to $100 of dividends received from qualifying domestic corporations.

If a joint return is filed and both husband and wife have dividend income, each may exclude up to $100 of dividends received from qualifying corporations. However, neither of them may use any portion of the $100 exclusion not used by the other. For example, if the husband had $300 in dividends, and the wife had $20, only $120 may be excluded.

Taxable dividends from the following corporations do not qualify for the dividends received exclusion:

- (a) Foreign corporations, including your share from a controlled foreign corporation.
- (b) So-called exempt organizations (charitable, fraternal, etc.) and exempt farmers' cooperative organizations.
- (c) Regulated investment companies except to the extent designated by the company to be taken into account as a dividend for these purposes.

(d) Real estate investment trusts.

(e) China Trade Act corporations.

(f) Corporations deriving 80 percent or more of their income from U.S. possessions and 50 percent or more of their income from the active conduct of a business therein.

Part II

Interest Income

You must report any interest you received or which was credited to your account (whether entered in your passbook or not) and which you can withdraw. If you received interest in excess of $100, list payers and amounts in Part II, Schedule B. Interest on bonds, debentures, notes, savings accounts, or loans is taxable, except on State and municipal bonds and securities. Interest received on tax refunds is taxable and must be included in your return.

If you own United States Savings bonds, the gradual increase in value of each bond is interest, but you need not report this interest until you cash the bond or until the year of final maturity, whichever is earlier. You may at any time elect to report each year the annual increase in value. However, if you do so, you must report in the first year the entire increase to date on all such bonds, and must continue to report the annual increase each year.

Interest on certain industrial development bonds issued after April 30, 1968, is taxable unless the bonds are part of an issue of $1,000,000 or less and substantially all the proceeds are used (1) to acquire, construct, reconstruct or improve land or depreciable property or (2) to redeem all or part of a prior bond issue that was issued to acquire, construct, reconstruct or improve land or depreciable property. For bonds issued after October 24, 1968, a $5,000,000 tax-exempt limitation may be applied in certain situations. The bond issuer will be able to tell you if the increased limitation applies.

Married Persons—Joint or Separate Returns

Advantages of a Joint Return.—There are benefits in figuring the tax on a joint return, which in most cases result in a lower tax than would result from separate returns.

How To Prepare a Joint Return.—You must include all income, exemptions and deductions of both husband and wife. In the return heading, list both names, including middle initials. (For example: "John F. and Mary L. Doe.") Both must sign the return unless husband is a serviceman in the Vietnam combat zone. In this instance, the wife should write in the space provided for her husband's signature that he is in military service in Vietnam.

A husband and wife may file a joint return even though one of them had no income. A joint return may not be filed if either husband or wife was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year.

When a joint return is filed, each assumes full legal responsibility for the entire tax, and if one fails to pay it, the other must.

How To Prepare a Separate Return.—A husband and wife may file separate returns if each had income of his own or if only one had income.

If you file a separate return, check the box on line 3 or line 6, whichever is applicable. If you checked the box on line 3, "Married filing separate return and spouse is also filing a return," write wife's (husband's) first name in space provided and enter both social security numbers in spaces to right of name and address area.

Each should report his (her) own income, exemptions, and deductions on his (her) separate return. In community property States, deductions resulting from payments made out of funds belonging jointly to husband and wife may be divided half and half. See Publication 555, Community Property and Federal Income Tax.

If one itemizes and claims actual deductions, then both must do so. If one uses the 10 percent standard deduction, the other may not use the minimum standard deduction which for a separate return is $100 plus $100 for each exemption claimed on line 10.

If you checked the box on line 6, "Married filing separate return and spouse is not filing a return," check the boxes on line 7b, to claim the exemption(s) for your wife or husband (enter only the name of the one having income in the name and address area).

Changes in Marital Status.—If you are married at the end of your taxable year, you are considered married for the entire year. If you are divorced (and not remarried) or legally separated on or before the end of your taxable year, you are considered single for the entire year.

If your wife or husband died during the year, you are considered married for the entire year. Generally, a joint return may then be filed for the year. You may also be entitled to the benefits of a joint return for the two years following the death of your husband or wife. (See "Widows and Widowers," under "Special Computations" below.)

Special Computations

Unmarried Head of Household.—The law provides special tax rates for any person who qualifies as a "Head of Household." (See Tax Rate Schedule III on T-1, and Tax Table B on T-2.) Only the following persons may qualify: (a) one who is unmarried (or legally separated) at the end of the taxable year, or (b) one who is married at the end of the year to a person who was a nonresident alien at any time during the taxable year. In addition, you must have furnished over half of the cost of maintaining as your home a household which during the entire year, except for temporary absence, was occupied as the principal place of abode and as a member of such household by (1) any related person other than your unmarried child or stepchild (see list on this page) for whom you are entitled to a deduction for an exemption, unless the deduction arises from a multiple support agreement, or (2) your unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild, even though such child is not a dependent.

If you maintain a home for your father or mother, it need not be your residence.

Widows and Widowers.—Under certain conditions, a taxpayer whose husband (or wife) has died during either of her two preceding taxable years may compute her tax by including only her income, exemptions, and deductions, but otherwise computing the tax as if a joint return were being filed. (See Tax Rate Schedule II on T-1, and Tax Table B on T-2.) You may claim the exemption for the decedent only for the year of death.

The conditions are that the taxpayer: (a) has not remarried, (b) maintains as her home a household which is the principal place of abode of her child or stepchild for whom she is entitled to a deduction for an exemption, and (c) was entitled to file a joint return with her husband (or his wife) for the year of death.

Instructions for Form 1040

Line 7 (Form 1040)—You and Your Wife

For You.—As the taxpayer, you are always entitled to at least one exemption. If, at the end of your taxable year, you were either blind or 65 or over, you get two exemptions. If you were both blind and 65 or over, you get three exemptions. Be sure to check the appropriate boxes. Age and blindness are determined as of December 31, 1969. Your age is determined on the day before your actual birthday. Thus, if your 65th birthday was on January 1, 1970, you get the additional exemption for age on your return for 1969.

For Your Wife.—An exemption is allowed for your wife (or husband) if you and she are filing a joint return. If you file a separate return, you may claim her exemptions only if she had no income and was not the dependent of another taxpayer. You are not entitled to an exemption for your wife on your return if she files a separate return for any reason. (For example, to obtain a refund of tax withheld where her income is less than $600.) Otherwise, your wife's exemptions are like your own—one, if she was neither blind nor 65 or over; two, if she was either blind or 65 or over; three, if she was both blind and 65 or over.

In Case of Death.—If your wife or husband died during 1969, the number of her or his exemptions is determined as of the date of death.

Proof of Blindness.—If totally blind, attach a statement to that effect to the return. If partially blind, attach a statement from a qualified physician or a registered optometrist that (a) central visual acuity did not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or (b) that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20°.

B-2

Lines 8 and 9 (Form 1040)—Children, Other Dependents

Enter on line 8 the first names and the total number of your dependent children who lived with you during 1969.

If you claim other dependents, complete columns (a) through (f) on line 9 and enter the figure 1 in the last column to right for each name listed. If dependent died or was born during the year, write "D" for died or "B" for born in column (c).

Each dependent claimed must meet all of the following tests:

1. Income.—Received less than $600 income. (If the child was under 19 or was a full-time student, this limitation does not apply.)

2. Support.—Received more than half of his support from you (or from husband or wife if a joint return is filed). (See definition of support on this page.)

3. Married Dependents.—Did not file a joint return with husband or wife.

4. Nationality.—Was either a citizen or resident of the United States or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone; or was an alien child adopted by and living with a United States citizen abroad.

5. Relationship.—(a) Was related to you (or to husband or wife if a joint return is filed) in one of the following ways:

Child*	Stepbrother	Son-in-law
Stepchild	Stepsister	Daughter-in-law
Mother	Stepmother	The following if related by blood:
Father	Stepfather
Grandparent	Mother-in-law	Uncle
Brother	Father-in-law	Aunt
Sister	Brother-in-law	Nephew
Grandchild	Sister-in-law	Niece or, (b) was a member of your household and had your home as his principal place of abode for the entire taxable year.

*Includes a child who is a member of your household if placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption.

Definition of Support.—Support includes food, shelter, clothing, medical and dental care, education, and the like. Generally, the amount of an item of support is the expense incurred by the one furnishing such item. If an item of support is furnished in the form of property or lodging, the amount of support attributable to such item is its fair market value. In computing the amount of support, include amounts contributed by the dependent for his own support, including amounts ordinarily excludable from income. (For example, social security benefits.)

In figuring whether you provide more than half of the support of your child who is a student, you may disregard amounts he received as scholarships.

Student Dependency and Exemption.—For rules on student dependents and exemptions see Publication 532, Tax Information for Students and Parents.

Divorced or Separated Parents.—For rules on dependency exemptions for your children, see Publication 501, Your Exemptions and Exemptions for Dependents.

Birth or Death of Dependent.—You can claim a full $600 exemption for a dependent who was born or died during the year if the tests for claiming an exemption for such dependent are met for the part of the year during which he was alive.

Support by More Than One Taxpayer.—If two or more persons contributed toward the support of an individual, see Form 2120.

INSTRUCTIONS (References are to the Internal Revenue Code)*GAINS AND LOSSES FROM SALES OR EXCHANGES OF PROPERTY.—Report details in appropriate part or parts.

In column (c) of Part I and column (a) of Parts II and III use the following symbols to indicate how the property was acquired: "A" for purchase on the open market; "B" for exercise of stock option or through employee stock purchase plan; "C" for inheritance or gift; "D" for exchange involving carryover of prior asset basis; and "E" for other.

"Capital assets" defined.—The term "capital assets" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business) but does NOT include—

- (a) stock in trade or other property of a kind properly includible in his inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year;
- (b) property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business;
- (c) property used in the trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in section 167;
- (d) real property used in the trade or business of the taxpayer;
- (e) certain government obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, at a discount, payable without interest and maturing at a fixed date not exceeding 1 year from date of issue;
- (f) certain copyrights, literary, musical, or artistic compositions, etc.; or
- (g) accounts and notes receivable acquired in the ordinary course of trade or business for services rendered or from the sale of property referred to in (a) or (b) above.

Special rules apply to dealers in securities for determining capital gain or ordinary loss on the sale or exchange of securities. Certain real property subdivided for sale may be treated as capital assets. Sections 1236 and 1237.

If the total distributions to which an employee is entitled under an employee's pension, bonus, or profit-sharing trust plan, which is exempt from tax under section 501(a), are paid to the employee in one taxable year, on account of the employee's separation from service, the aggregate amount of such distribution, to the extent it exceeds the amounts contributed by the employee, shall be treated as a long-term capital gain. (See section 402(a).)

Gain on sale of depreciable property between husband and wife or between a shareholder and a "controlled corporation" shall be treated as ordinary gain.

Gains and losses from transactions described in section 1231 shall be treated as gains and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than 6 months if the total of these gains exceeds the total of these losses. If the total of these gains does not exceed the total of these losses, such gains and losses shall not be treated as gains and losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets. Thus, in the event of a net gain, all these transactions should be entered in Part I of Schedule D. In the event of a net loss, all these transactions should be entered in Part III of Schedule D, or in other applicable schedules on Form 1040.

Section 1231 deals with gains and losses arising from—

- (a) sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion, of land (including in certain cases unharvested crops sold with the land) and depreciable property if they are used in the trade or business and held for more than 6 months.
- (b) sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of livestock held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes (but not including poultry) and held for 1 year or more.
- (c) the cutting of timber or the disposal of timber, coal, or domestic iron ore, to which section 631 applies, and
- (d) the involuntary conversion of capital assets held more than 6 months.

See sections 1231 and 631 for specific conditions applicable.

Gain from disposition of depreciable property under sections 1245 and 1250—assets held more than 6 months (Part II).—(Report any gain from such property held for 6 months or less in Part III.) Except as provided below section 1245 property means depreciable (a) personal property (other than livestock) including intangible personal property; (b) tangible real property (except for buildings and their structural components) if used as an integral part of manufacturing, production, or extraction, or of furnishing transportation, communications, electrical energy, gas, water, or sewage disposal services, or used as a research or storage facility in connection with these activities; and (c) elevators and escalators.

Except as provided below section 1250 property means depreciable real property (other than section 1245 property).

See sections 1245(b) and 1250(d) for exceptions and limitations involving: (a) disposition by gift; (b) transfers at death; (c) certain tax-free transactions; (d) like kind exchanges, involuntary conversions; (e) sales or exchanges to effectuate FCC policies and exchanges to comply with S.E.C. orders; (f) property distributed by a partnership to a partner; and (g) disposition of principal residence (section 1250 only).

Column f of Part II.—In computing depreciation allowed or allowable for elevators or escalators, enter in column f-1 depreciation prior to July 1, 1963, and in column f-2 depreciation after June 30, 1963.

Column i of Part II, section 1250 property only.—If held for more than 6 months, but not more than 1 year, enter the smaller of (1) column h, or (2) column f-2.

If held for more than 1 year, enter the result of multiplying the smaller of (1) column h, or (2) column f-2 less the amount of depreciation computed for the same period using the straight line method, by the percentage obtained by subtracting from 100%, one percentage point for each full month held in excess of 20 months.

Where substantial improvements have been made within the preceding 10 years, see section 1250(f).

Basis.—In determining gain or loss use cost, except as specially provided. The basis of property acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, is the cost or other basis to the donor in the event of gain, but, in the event of loss, it is the lower of either such donor's basis or the fair market value on date of gift. If a gift tax was paid with respect to property received by gift, see section 1015(d). Generally, the basis of property acquired by inheritance is the fair market value at the date of death. For special cases involving property acquired from a decedent, see section 1014.

Installment sales.—If you sold personal property for more than $1,000 or real property regardless of amount, you may be eligible to report any gain under the installment plan if (1) there is no payment in the year of sale, or (2) the payments in the year of sale do not exceed 30 percent of the selling price. Such sales must provide for 2 or more payments in 2 or more taxable years. The election must be made in the year of sale even though no payment was received in that year. See section 453. For treatment of a portion of payments as "unstated interest" on deferred payment sales, see section 483.

Sale of personal residence.—Tax on a portion or all of the gain from the sale of your principal residence may be deferred if:

- within 1 year after (or before) the sale, you purchase another residence and use it as your principal residence; or
- within 1 year after (or before) the sale, you begin construction of a new residence and use it as your principal residence not later than 18 months after the sale.

If you sold property for $20,000 or less on or after your 65th birthday which was owned and used by you as your principal residence for at least 5 of the last 8 years any gain on the sale need not be included in income. If the property was sold for more than $20,000 part of the gain must be taken into income. See Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home.

Nonbusiness debts.—If a debt, such as a personal loan, becomes totally worthless within the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall be considered a loss from the sale or exchange, during the taxable year, of a capital asset held for not more than 6 months. Enter such loss in column (i) and describe in column (b), Part I. This does not apply to: (a) a debt evidenced by a corporate security with interest coupons or in registered form and (b) a debt acquired in your trade or business.

Limitation on allowable capital losses.—If line 10, Part I, shows a net loss, the loss shall be allowed as a deduction, only to the extent of the smaller of (1) line 3, Schedule T (or line 15c, Form 1040 if tax table is used), computed without capital gains (losses), or (2) $1,000. The excess of such allowable loss over the lesser of items (1) and (2) above is called "capital loss carryover." Any such carryover loss may be carried forward indefinitely. Capital losses retain their character as either short-term or long-term when carried over to the succeeding year. To the extent the net capital losses are deducted from ordinary income, the net short-term capital loss must be considered as deducted first.

Losses in transactions between certain persons.—No deduction is allowable for losses from sales or exchanges of property directly or indirectly between (a) members of a family, (b) a corporation and an individual (or a fiduciary) owning more than 50 percent of the corporation's stock (liquidations excepted), (c) a grantor and fiduciary of any trust, (d) a fiduciary and a beneficiary of the same trust, (e) a fiduciary and a fiduciary or beneficiary of another trust created by the same grantor, or (f) an individual and a tax-exempt organization controlled by the individual or his family. Partners and partnerships see section 707(b).

Long-term capital gains from regulated investment companies.—Include in income as a long-term capital gain the amount you are notified on Form 2439 which constitutes your share of the undistributed capital gains of a regulated investment company. Include the tax paid by the company as shown on the Form 2439 with the amount claimed on Form 1040, line 21. Add to the basis of your stock, the excess of the amount included in income over the credit.

Losses on small business stock.—If you had a loss on section 1244 stock which would (but for that section) be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset, it shall be treated as a loss from the sale or exchange of an asset which is not a capital asset to the extent provided in that section.

Instructions for Schedule E (Form 1040)

Part I.—Pensions and Annuities

Amounts received from annuities, pensions, endowments, or life insurance contracts, whether paid for a fixed number of years or for life, may have a portion of the payment excluded from income. The following types come under this rule: (a) pensions where the employee has either contributed to its cost or has been taxed on his employer's contributions, and (b) amounts paid for a reason other than the death of the insured under an annuity, endowment, or life insurance contract.

General Rule for Annuities.—Generally, amounts received from annuities and pensions are included in income in an amount which is figured upon your life expectancy. This computation and your life expectancy multiple can be found in the regulations covering annuities and pensions. Once you have obtained the multiple it remains unchanged. It is not necessary to recompute your excludable portion each year. In making this computation you can get help from the Internal Revenue Service as well as from some employers and insurance companies.

Special Rule for Certain Types of Employees' Annuities.—A special rule applies for amounts received as employees' annuities if part of the cost is contributed by the employer and if the amount contributed by the employee will be returned within three years from the date of the first payment received under the contract. If both of these conditions are met, then all the payments received under the contract during the first three years are to be excluded from income until the employee recovers his cost (the amount contributed by him, plus the contributions made by the employer on which the employee was previously taxed). Thereafter, all amounts received are fully taxable. This method of computing taxable income also applies to the employee's beneficiary if the employee died before receiving any annuity or pension payments.

Example: An employee received $200 a month from an annuity. While he worked, he contributed $4,925 toward the cost of the annuity. His employer also made contributions toward the cost of the annuity for which the employee was not taxed. The retired employee would be paid $7,200 during the first three years, which amount exceeds his contribution of $4,925. He would exclude from income all the payments received from the annuity until he has received $4,925. All payments received thereafter are fully taxable.

Death Benefit Exclusion.—If you receive pension or annuity payments as a beneficiary of a deceased employee, and the employee had received no retirement pension or annuity payments, you may be entitled to a death benefit exclusion of up to $5,000. (For details see Publication 524, Retirement Income and Retirement Income Credit.)

Part II.—Rent and Royalty income

Rents.—If you are not engaged in selling real estate, but receive rent from property you own or control, report the total in column 2, Part II, Schedule E. If you received property other than money as rent, report its fair market value.

In the case of buildings you can deduct depreciation. You can also deduct all ordinary and necessary expenditures on the property, such as taxes, interest, repairs, insurance, agent's commissions, maintenance, and similar items. However, you cannot deduct capital investments or improvements, but must add them to the basis of the property for the purpose of depreciation. For example, a landlord can deduct the cost of minor repairs, but not the cost of major improvements such as a new roof or remodeling. You cannot deduct the value of your own labor.

If You Rent Part of Your House.—If you rent out only part of your property, you can deduct only that portion of your expenses which relates to the rented part. If you cannot determine these expenses exactly, you may figure them on a proportionate basis. For example, if you rent out half of your home and live in the other half, you can deduct only half of the depreciation and other expenses.

Do not report in column 2, Part II, Schedule E, room and other space rentals for which you rendered service to the occupant. Report the rentals received in separate Schedule C. If you are engaged in the business of selling real estate, you should also report rentals received in separate Schedule C.

Royalties.—Report in column 3 royalties from oil, gas or mineral properties, and royalties from copyrights and patents. However, if you hold an operating oil, gas, or mineral interest, report gross income and expenses in separate Schedule C. Under certain circumstances, amounts received on the disposal of coal and iron ore may be treated as the sale of a capital asset. (See Publication 544, Sales and Exchanges of Assets.)

If State or local taxes were withheld from oil or gas payments you received, report in column 3 the gross amount of royalty, and include the taxes withheld by the producer in column 5, other expenses.

Part III.—Partnerships, Etc.

Partnerships.—If you are a member of a partnership, joint venture, or the like, include in Part III, Schedule E, your share of the ordinary income (whether you actually received it or not), or the net loss for the taxable year which ends within or with the year covered by your return. However, losses are only allowed to the extent of the adjusted basis of your partnership interest at the end of the partnership year in which the losses occurred.

Items of income, deductions, etc., to be carried to your individual return are shown in Schedule K of the partnership return. You should enter on the appropriate lines and schedules of your return your share of income from the following sources:

Dividends from qualifying domestic corporations.

Salaries and interest paid by the partnership. Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets and certain other property.

Also, include your share of the specially allocated income and deduction items.

The individual partner must include his distributive share of partnership income (or loss) from the operation of a trade or business which constitutes net earnings from self-employment on separate Schedule SE. Members of farm partnerships should complete Part II of Schedule SE first to figure self-employment tax. For further details see Publication 541, Tax Information on Partnership Income and Losses.

Small Business Corporations.—If you are a shareholder in a small business corporation which elects to have its current taxable income taxed to its stockholders, you should report your share of both the distributed and undistributed current taxable income as ordinary income in Part III, Schedule E, except that portion which is reportable in separate Schedule D as a long-term capital gain. Neither type of income is eligible for the dividends exclusion. Shareholders claiming a deduction for a net operating loss must attach to their return a computation of the adjusted basis of their stock in the corporation and the adjusted basis of any indebtedness of the corporation to the shareholders. See sections 1374 and 1376 and the regulations thereunder for limitation on deduction and required adjustments.

Estates and Trusts.—If you are a beneficiary of an estate or trust, report your taxable portion of its income, whether you receive it or not. You should enter your share of income of the following classes on the appropriate lines and schedules of your return:

Dividends from qualifying domestic corporations.

Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets and certain other property.

You should include all other taxable income from estates and trusts in this Part. Any depreciation which is allocable to you on estate or trust property may be subtracted from estate or trust income so that only the net income received will be included in your return. You may get information regarding these items from the fiduciary.

Miscellaneous Income.—Report here certain types of income for which you cannot find a specific place on your return or related schedules. The source of income reported here must be identified in column (a). Report here amounts received as alimony, separate maintenance, prizes and awards; also, recoveries of bad debts and other items which reduced your tax in a prior year. A refund of State income tax should also be entered here. The general rule is that a refund of State income tax is income to the taxpayer if a deduction resulting in a Federal tax benefit was taken for a prior year. Taxpayers using the cash basis report the refund in the year received; taxpayers using the accrual basis report when the claim is allowed. If no claim is filed, report when the taxing authority notifies you of the overpayment.

Net Operating Loss.—If, in 1969, your business or profession lost money, or you had a casualty loss, or a loss from the sale or other disposition of depreciable property or real property used in your trade or business, you can apply the losses against your 1969 income. If the losses exceed your income, the excess is a "net operating loss." Generally it may be used to offset your income for the three years prior to and the five years following this year. The loss must be carried back to the third prior year and any remaining balance brought forward to each succeeding year. If a "carry-back" entitles you to a refund, use Form 1045 to claim a quick refund.

If you had a loss in a prior year which may be carried over to 1969, you should enter it as a "minus" figure under "Miscellaneous income." Attach computation.

Line 11 (Form 1040)—Wages, Salaries, Tips, etc.

Report the full amount of wages, salaries, fees, commissions, tips, bonuses and other payments for your personal services that you receive from your employer, even though taxes and other amounts have been withheld. If an amount appears on Form W-2 in the box captioned "Other compensation paid in 1969," add this amount to the amount shown in the box captioned "Wages paid subject to withholding in 1969," and include the total with other payments reported on this line. Also include wages for which you did not receive a Form W-2. (See instructions for line 15b for treatment of reimbursed employee business expenses.)

Tips reported to your employer are included as wages on Form W-2. Tips not reported to your employer are to be included with other amounts on this line. (See Form 4137).

Payment in Merchandise, etc.—If you are paid in whole or in part in merchandise, services, stock, or other things of value, determine the fair market value of such items and include it in your wages.

Meals and Living Quarters.—Employees who, as a matter of choice, receive meals and lodging from their employers, whether or not designated as wages, must include the fair market value in income.

However, if, for the convenience of your employer, your meals are furnished at your place of employment, or you are required to accept lodging at your place of employment as a condition of your employment, do not report the value of the meals or lodging.

Exclusions for Military Combat Pay.—An enlisted man may exclude all service compensation for each month for which he served in a combat zone and each month for which he was hospitalized as a result of such service. For this purpose, service for any part of a month is considered a full month. A commissioned officer may exclude up to $500 a month of such compensation. Forms W-2 issued for 1969 by the Armed Forces ordinarily do not include these payments. If you have any doubt whether the amount shown on your Form W-2 includes the nontaxable amount, contact the pay office which issued the form. If the nontaxable portion was included on Form W-2, you will be issued a corrected Form W-2 or a certificate to support exclusion. If you get a certificate, deduct the amount shown on the certificate from the wages shown on Form W-2. Include the difference in line 11, and attach the certificate to your return. If you are issued a corrected Form W-2, include the amount shown on that form in line 11.

Line 15b (Form 1040)—Adjustments to Income

Sick Pay Exclusion.—You should exclude from income amounts received under a wage continuation plan for the period during which you were absent from work because of personal injuries or sickness. If both you and your employer contribute to the plan, you may exclude without limit any benefits attributable to your own contributions. However, there are certain limitations on the exclusion of the benefits attributable to your employer's contributions.

To figure your sick pay exclusion you must first determine whether your "sick pay" was over 75 percent of your regular weekly rate of pay.

If you received over 75 percent of your weekly rate of wages for periods of absence from work because of illness or injury, there is a 30 calendar day waiting period before you qualify for the exclusion. The waiting period applies even though you were injured or hospitalized. The amount to be excluded thereafter is limited to a rate not to exceed $100 a week.

If you received 75 percent or less of your weekly rate of wages, the waiting period is 7 calendar days, and the exclusion is limited to a rate not to exceed $75 a week. There is no exclusion for the waiting period, regardless of whether you were sick or injured, unless you were hospitalized at least one day during the period of absence. After 30 calendar days the weekly rate of exclusion is increased to an amount not to exceed $100.

Where the exclusion is limited to a weekly rate of $100, and the payments exceed this rate, the exclusion is figured by multiplying the amount received by 100, and dividing the result by the weekly rate of payment.

Where the exclusion is limited to a weekly rate of $75, and the payments exceed this rate, the exclusion is figured by multiplying the amount received by 75, and dividing the result by the weekly rate of payment.

Attach Form 2440 or a statement showing your computation, the period or periods of absence, regular weekly rate of pay, and whether hospitalized.

Moving Expenses.—Except as noted, employees, including new employees, can deduct certain moving expenses (transportation of household goods, personal effects and members of the household, and meals and lodging while in transit). The deduction is allowed only if: (a) the change in job location would have added at least 20 miles to the distance to work if the taxpayer had not moved to a new residence, or, (b) he had no former principal place of work, and his new place of work is at least 20 miles from his former residence, and (c) in the case of a new employee, during the 12-month period immediately following his arrival at the general location of his new principal place of work the taxpayer is a full-time employee in such general location during at least 39 weeks. See Publication 521, Moving Expenses—Tax Information for Employees and Employers.

Attach Form 3903 or a statement showing the amount of your reimbursement and deductible expenses. Enter any excess reimbursement on Schedule E, Part III, under "Miscellaneous income," and include any excess expenses in line 15b. However, if your employer included the reimbursement on Form W-2, and the reimbursement is included on line 11, of your return, just attach a list of your deductible expenses and include the expenses in line 15b.

If the employer for whom you were already working paid your moving expenses to a new location and the reimbursement equaled the allowable expenses, you should not report the reimbursement or the expenses.

Employee Business Expenses and Employer Payments*Deductible Expenses and Excess Payments.

You may deduct the expenses shown below to the extent they are not paid by your employer. If employer payments exceed the expenses, the excess must be reported as income on your return.

(a) Travel and Transportation.—Bus, taxi, plane, train, etc., fares or the cost of operating an automobile in connection with your duties as an employee.

(b) Meals and Lodging.—If you are temporarily away on business at least overnight from the city, town, or other general area which is your principal or regular business location. You may not deduct the cost of meals incurred on daily trips that do not require sleep or rest.

(c) Outside Salesman.—If you are an "outside salesman," you may generally deduct other expenses which are ordinary and necessary in performing your duties, such as selling expenses, stationery, and postage. An "outside salesman" is one who is engaged in full-time solicitation of business for his employer away from the employer's place of business. It does not include a person whose principal activities consist of service and delivery as, for example, a milk driver-salesman.

(d) Other Business Expenses.—If you itemize deductions on Schedule A of your return, you may also deduct (under the heading "Miscellaneous deductions") business expenses other than those described above. Examples of such expenses are professional and union dues, and the cost of tools, materials, etc., not paid for by your employer.

Additional Information.—If you claim a deduction for these employee business expenses, you must submit the following information with your return. You may use Form 2106 for this purpose.

(a) The total of all amounts received from or charged to your employer for business expenses.

(b) The amount of your business expenses broken down into broad categories, and

(c) The number of days away from home on business.

If you do not claim a deduction, you must attach the information unless you were required to make and did make, an adequate accounting for your expenses to your employer. You have made the equivalent of an adequate accounting if you received an allowance not in excess of $25 a day, instead of subsistence; or a mileage allowance not in excess of 15 cents a mile; and have established the time, place, and business purpose of the travel. For higher rates in special cases, such as foreign travel, consult your District Director.

Instructions for Schedule R (Form 1040)—1969

Retirement Income Credit

You may qualify for this credit, which is generally 15 percent of retirement income, if you received earned income in excess of $600 in each of any 10 calendar years—not necessarily consecutive—before the beginning of your taxable year.

The maximum amount allowed any one individual as a credit against his income tax is $228.60 ( $15\% \times $1,524$ ). The maximum allowable credit on a joint return where both husband and wife show $1,524 on part A, line 6, columns A and B, is $457.20.

The term "earned income" means wages, salaries, professional fees, etc., received as compensation for personal services actually rendered. It does not include any amount received as an annuity or pension. If you were engaged in a trade or business in which both personal services and capital were material income-producing factors, a reasonable allowance as compensation for the personal services you rendered, not in excess of 30 percent of your share of the net profits of such business, shall be considered as earned income.

Both husband and wife may take the retirement income credit if both qualify and both have retirement income. If you are a surviving widow (widower) and have not remarried, you may use the earned income of your deceased husband (wife), or you may combine his (her) earned income with yours to determine if you qualify for the credit.

Retirement income for the purpose of the credit means—

(a) In the case of a person who is not 65 before the end of his taxable year, only income received from pensions and annuities under a public retirement system (one established by the Federal government, a State, county, city, etc.) which is included in income in his return.

Disability annuities received by Federal employees prior to normal retirement age that exceed the sick pay exclusion do not qualify as retirement income.

(b) In the case of a person who is 65 or over before the end of his taxable year, income from pensions, annuities, interest, rents and dividends that are included in gross income in his return. (Gross income from rents for this purpose means gross receipts from rents without reduction for depreciation or any other expenses. Royalties are not considered rents for this purpose.)

of the retirement income used for the credit computation may not exceed $1,524 reduced by (a) Any amount received and excluded from income as a pension or annuity under the Social Security Act and Railroad Retirement Acts (but not supplemental annuities) and other tax-exempt pensions or annuities. Line 3(a), General Rule and Alternative Computation, must reflect the gross amount of social security benefits before deduction of any amounts withheld to pay medicare insurance premiums. This reduction does not include (1) that part of a pension or annuity which is excluded from income because it represents, in effect, a return of capital or tax-free proceeds of a like nature, or (2) amounts excluded from income received as compensation for injury or sickness or under accident or health plans. (b) Certain adjustments for earned income.

Alternative Computation. — The maximum amount of retirement income to be used in figuring the credit for retirement income is $2,286 for taxpayers who file joint returns (both 65 years of age or over) but who would otherwise be limited to $1,524 because either the husband or wife did not have earned income in excess of $600 in each of any 10 prior calendar years.

If you meet these requirements, also complete the Alternative Computation to determine which computation results in the larger credit.

If you operate your own automobile for business purposes, you may figure the cost of operation at a standard mileage rate of 10 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business use, and 7 cents a mile for such use in excess of 15,000 miles, rather than deducting the actual expenses.

Use of this method is optional on a yearly basis. However, this simplified method cannot be used if depreciation has been claimed using a method other than straight line, or if additional first-year depreciation has been claimed. If you use the optional method, you cannot deduct interest and taxes paid in connection with the purchase of the automobile as itemized deductions.

Actual expenses include gasoline, oil, repairs, license tags, insurance, depreciation, and interest and taxes paid in connection with the purchase of the automobile.

Reporting Deductions and Excess Payments.—The expenses and payments are to be reported as follows:

(a) If the employer payments exceed the expenses, report the excess on Schedule E, Part III, under "Miscellaneous income."

(b) If the expenses exceed the payments, the excess expenses for travel and transportation, meals and lodging, and "outside salesman," may be deducted on line 15b. If you itemize deductions, the unreimbursed portion of other business expenses may be deducted on Schedule A, under "Miscellaneous deductions."

(c) If the expenses equaled the payments (or the expenses exceeded the payments but you do not wish to claim a deduction for the excess), write on the back of Form 1040, "Employer payments did not exceed employee business expenses."

Note: If, however, your employer included the reimbursement on Form W-2, and the reimbursement is included on line 11 of your return, attach a statement containing the information given under the caption "Additional Information" on E-2, and include the total expense on line 15b.

Payments as a Self-employed Person to a Retirement Plan.—Self-employed individuals who made contributions to a qualified pension, profit-sharing, annuity or bond purchase plan that includes the self-employed individual, should see the instruction on Form 2950SE.

Tax

Line 16 (Form 1040)—Find Your Tax From Tax Tables

The Tax Tables on T-2 and T-3 are provided by law and save you from having to itemize deductions and figure your tax before surcharge. The tables allow $600 for each exemption claimed on your return and also provide for the standard deduction.

Line 17 (Form 1040)—Tax Surcharge

The rate for the calendar year 1969 is 10 percent. The tax surcharge is an addition to the regular income tax. See T-1 for Tax Surcharge Tables.

Line 19 (Form 1040)—Federal Income Tax Withheld

On this line include the total income tax withheld as shown on Forms W-2.

Line 20 (Form 1040)—Excess FICA Tax Withheld—Two or More Employers.—

If you worked for two or more employers in 1969 and you received FICA wages totaling more than $7,800, you are entitled to claim the excess social security tax withheld as a credit against your income tax. If a joint return, separate computations must be made for you and your wife. Compute the credit as follows:

- a. Add:
  - (1) Social security (FICA) tax withheld by all your employers from your wages as shown on all Forms W-2 for 1969 . . . $ _____
  - (2) Uncollected employee tax on tips, if any, as shown on all Forms W-2 for 1969 . . . . . $ _____
- b. Total of a(1) and a(2) . . . . . $ _____
- c. Subtract . . . . . $ 374.40
- d. Enter balance on Form 1040, line 20 . . . . . $ _____

Excess Hospital Insurance Benefits Tax (Railroad Employees and Railroad Employee Representatives).—If in 1969 you received taxable RRTA compensation (exclusive of taxable compensation earned or deemed earned in a year prior to 1968) and you also received FICA (social security) wages and the total of the RRTA compensation and FICA wages is more than $7,800, you are entitled to claim the excess hospital insurance tax paid on this line. To compute the excess, see Form 4469.

Line 21 (Form 1040)

On this line, include any amounts from the following sources and check box(es) to indicate credit.

Credit for Federal Taxes on Gasoline and Lubricating Oil.—If you are entitled to a tax credit for (a) gasoline used (1) on a farm for farming purposes, (2) other than as fuel in a highway vehicle, or (3) in vehicles while engaged in furnishing certain public passenger land transportation service; or (b) lubricating oil used other than in a highway motor vehicle, include the credit on this line. Attach Form 4136. To obtain this credit your return must be timely filed (including any extensions).

Credit for Taxes Paid by Regulated Investment Companies.—Include the credit on this line. Attach Copy B of Form 2439.

Line 22 (Form 1040)—Estimated Tax Payments

Enter the total paid for the year including any overpayment credit from 1968.

If you and your spouse filed a joint declaration of estimated tax for 1969 but do not file a joint income tax return for the year, the total estimated tax paid may be claimed on the separate return of either spouse or divided in any agreed amounts. In either event, the social security number of both persons should be entered on the separate return(s).

If you and your spouse filed separate estimated tax declarations for 1969 and elect to file a joint income tax return for the year, enter on this line the sum of the amounts paid on the separate declarations. Also enter the social security numbers of both persons in the spaces provided on Form 1040.

The above instructions should be followed even if one spouse is deceased.

Penalty for Underpaying Your Tax During the Year.—If the total of lines 19, 20, and 22 is less than 80 percent (66⅔ percent for farmers and fishermen) of an amount equal to the total tax on line 18 less any credit for Federal tax on nonhighway gasoline and lubricating oil (from Form 4136), you may be liable for a penalty unless one or more of the specific exceptions explained on Form 2210 applies to you. (Farmers and fishermen, see Form 2210F.) Attach this form or a statement to your return to support your computation of the penalty or to describe the specific exceptions you believe apply.

If the penalty is in order, show the amount in the bottom margin on Form 1040, as "penalty-estimated tax" and increase line 24 or decrease line 25 accordingly.

Line 23 (Form 1040)

If as a beneficiary of a trust you are entitled to a tax credit because of the "throwback" rule, write "throwback credit" and show the amount of credit in space to left of entry line. Also include in total for line 23.

Lines 24 and 25 (Form 1040)—Social Security (FICA) or Railroad Retirement (RRTA) Tax On Tip Income

If you failed to report tips to your employer, or if your wages were insufficient for him to withhold social security or railroad retirement tax, you must pay these taxes with your income tax return. If any such taxes are due on tips which have been reported to your employer, he will show you the amount due on Form W-2. If the tips were not reported, fill out and attach Form 4137 for those tips subject to social security tax. For tips taxable under railroad retirement, contact the nearest Railroad Retirement Board office. This tax should be added to your "Balance Due" (line 24), or subtracted from your "Overpayment" (line 25). On the bottom margin of Form 1040, write the amount and the words "tax on tips," and the initials FICA or RRTA, whichever are applicable. For income tax purposes, be sure all your tips are included in line 11, Form 1040.

Line 26(a) (Form 1040)—Overpayments Credited to 1970 Estimated Tax

Amounts elected for credit to estimated tax will be applied to the number reported on the return as "Your social security number," unless the return is accompanied by a statement requesting that the amount be credited to the "Spouse's social security number."

Declarations of Estimated Tax

If you expect that your income tax and self-employment tax for 1970 will exceed by $40 or more the tax to be withheld from your wages, you may be required to file a declaration. For further details, see your District Director.

TAX TABLES FOR PERSONS WITH INCOMES UNDER $5,000

WHO DO NOT ITEMIZE DEDUCTIONS ON THEIR RETURNS

FILING STATUS ON FORM 1040:

Line 1 use → TAX TABLE A—For Single Persons
 Line 2, 4, or 5 use → TAX TABLE B—For Married Persons Filing Joint Returns or Unmarried Heads of Household Line 3 or 6 use → TAX TABLE C on T-3—For Married Persons Filing Separate Returns

Tables A and B reflect the lowest tax after considering both the 10 percent standard deduction and the minimum standard deduction, on either the 10 percent or the minimum standard deduction.

Read down the income columns until you find the line covering your adjusted gross income (line 15, Form 1040). Then read across to the appropriate column headed by the number corresponding to the number of your exemptions. This is your tax. Enter tax on line 16, Form 1040 or line 6, Schedule T. Also see Tax Surcharge Tables on T-1.

1969 TAX TABLE C—For Married Persons Filing Separate Returns*FOR PERSONS WITH INCOMES UNDER $5,000*WHO DO NOT ITEMIZE DEDUCTIONS ON THEIR RETURNS

This table is designed to enable married persons filing separate returns to figure their tax choosing either the 10% or minimum standard deduction. However, if one uses the 10% deduction, then both must use it. Read down the income columns below until you find the line covering your adjusted gross income (line 15c, Form 1040). Then read across to the appropriate column headed by the number corresponding to the number of your exemptions. This is your tax. Enter tax on line 16, Form 1040 or line 6, Schedule T. Also see Tax Surcharge Tables on T-1.

1969 Optional State Sales Tax Tables

 Department of the Treasury Internal Revenue Service

Publication 600

If you itemize your deductions, you may use these tables to determine the general sales tax to be entered on Schedule A. However, if you are able to establish that you paid an amount larger than that shown you are entitled to deduct the larger amount. The sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile may be added to the table amount except in Vermont.

If your income was more than $19,999, but less than $100,000, compute your deduction as follows:

Step 1—For the first $19,999, find the amount for your family size in the table for your State.

Step 2—For each $1,000 of income (or fraction thereof) over $19,999, but less than $50,000, add 2 percent of the amount you determined in Step 1, above.

Step 3—For each $1,000 of income (or fraction thereof) over $49,999, but less than $100,000, add 1 percent of the amount you determined in Step 1, above.

If your income was $100,000 or more, simply deduct 210 percent of the amount determined in Step 1, above.

If you itemize your deductions, you may use these tables to determine the general sales tax to be entered on Schedule A. However, if you are able to establish that you paid an amount larger than that shown you are entitled to deduct the larger amount. The sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile may be added to the table amount except in Vermont. ## 1969 Optional State Sales Tax Tables

If you itemize your deductions, you may use these tables to determine the general sales tax to be entered on Schedule A. However, if you are able to establish that you paid an amount larger than that shown you are entitled to deduct the larger amount. The sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile may be added to the table amount except in Vermont.

If your income was more than $19,999, but less than $100,000, compute your deduction as follows:

Step 1—For the first $19,999, find the amount for your family size in the table for your State.

Step 2—For each $1,000 of income (or fraction thereof) over $19,999, but less than $50,000, add 2 percent of the amount you determined in Step 1, above.

Step 3—For each $1,000 of income (or fraction thereof) over $49,999, but less than $100,000, add 1 percent of the amount you determined in Step 1, above.

If your income was $100,000 or more, simply deduct 20 percent of the amount determined in Step 1, above.

Instructions for Schedule SE (Form 1040)—1969 (Note: Schedule SE replaces Schedules C-3 and F-1.)

Schedule SE provides the Social Security Administration with the information on self-employment income necessary for computing benefits under the social security program. Self-employment tax must be paid regardless of age and even though the individual is receiving social security benefits.

To assure proper credit to your account, enter your name and social security number on Schedule SE exactly as they are shown on your social security card.

Ministers, members of religious orders, and Christian Science practitioners.—Duly ordained, commissioned, or licensed ministers of churches, members of religious orders (who have not taken a vow of poverty), and Christian Science practitioners are now subject to self-employment tax, but may under certain conditions request to exempt their income from service as a minister, member or practitioner by filing Form 4361. Forms, schedules and publications may be obtained from the District Director. If you previously filed an effective waiver certificate Form 2031 to pay self-employment tax, you may not now file for an exemption. See Publication 484, Social Security for Clergymen.

Ministers and members of religious orders must include in their earnings from self-employment (but not for income tax) the rental value of a parsonage or allowance for the rental value of the parsonage and the value of meals and lodging furnished them for the convenience of their employers.

Members of Certain Religious Faiths.—If you have conscientious objections to social security insurance by virtue of your adherence to the established teachings of a recognized religious sect of which you are a member, you may file Form 4029 to obtain exemption from self-employment tax. If you have filed Form 4029, do not file Schedule SE; however, write, "Exempt-Form 4029" on the back of Form 1040.

U.S. citizens employed by foreign governments or international organizations.—A U.S. citizen employed in the United States, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, or the Virgin Islands by a foreign government, an instrumentality wholly owned by a foreign government, or an international organization which is organized under the International Organizations Immunities Act, is subject to the social security self-employment tax. Report income from such employment on line 1(e), Part III, of this Schedule.

Fee basis State or local government employees.—Fees received for functions and services performed by employees (including public officers who in such capacity are employees) are subject to self-employment tax if such functions and services are performed in positions which are: (1) compensated solely on a fee basis; and (2) not covered under a Federal-State social security coverage agreement. If you filed Form 4415, write, "Exempt-Form 4415" on the back of Form 1040.

Exclusions

Income (or loss) from the following sources and deductions attributable thereto are not taken into account in figuring net earnings from self-employment. Use Part I, line 4 to exclude any such amounts reported on separate Schedule C that should not be taken into account in figuring your self-employment income. Any item of income or expense which was included in line 2, Part II and which does not enter into the computation of net earnings from farm self-employment should be eliminated from line 2, Part II and an explanation attached.

Employees and public officials.—Income (fees, salaries, etc.) from the performance of service as: (a) a public official (except as noted above); (b) an employee or employee representative under the railroad retirement system; or (c) an employee (except as indicated above).

Note.—Income of an employee 18 or over from the sale of newspapers or magazines to an ultimate consumer is subject to self-employment tax if the income consists of retained profits from such sales.

Certain payments to retired partners.—Income received by a retired partner under a written plan of the partnership which provides for lifelong periodic retirement payments if the retired partner no longer has any interest in the partnership (except for the right to the retirement payments) and did not perform services for the partnership during the year.

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, except rentals received in the course of a trade or business as a real estate dealer. This includes cash and crop shares received from a tenant or sharefarmer. Report these amounts in separate Schedule E, Part II. However, rental income from a farm is not excluded if the rental arrangement provides for material participation by the landlord and he does participate materially in the production or in the management of the production of one or more farm products on his land. Such income represents farm earnings and should be reported on Schedules F and SE.

Payments for the use or occupancy of rooms or other space where services are also rendered to the occupant, such as rooms in hotels, boarding houses, apartment houses furnishing hotel services, tourist camps or homes, or space in parking lots, warehouses, or storage garages do not constitute rentals from real estate and are included in determining net earnings from self-employment.

Dividends and interest.—Dividends on shares of stock, and interest on bonds, debentures, notes, certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued with interest coupons or in registered form by a corporation, or by a government or political subdivision thereof, unless received in the course of a trade or business as a dealer in stocks or securities.

Property gains and losses.—Gain or loss: (a) from the sale or exchange of a capital asset; (b) to which sections 631 and 1231 are applicable; or (c) from the sale, exchange, involuntary conversion, or other disposition of property if such property is neither (1) stock in trade or other property of a kind which would properly be includible in inventory if on hand at the close of the taxable year, nor (2) property held primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of the trade or business. Report on separate Schedule D.

Net operating losses.—No deduction for net operating losses of other years shall be allowed in determining the net earnings from self-employment. Such deduction should be entered as a "minus" figure on Schedule E, Part III, under "Miscellaneous income."

More Than One Trade or Business

If an individual is engaged in farming and in one or more other trades or businesses, his net earnings from self-employment are the combined net earnings from self-employment of all his trades or businesses. Thus, the loss sustained in one trade or business will operate to reduce the income derived from another trade or business. In such cases, use both Schedule F and Schedule C to determine net profit from the farm and nonfarm activities, respectively. Make the combined computation of self-employment tax on Schedule SE.

Joint Returns

For a joint return, show the name of the one with self-employment income on Schedule SE. If both husband and wife have self-employment income, each must file a separate Schedule SE. However, include the total of profits (or loss) from all businesses on Form 1040, line 14, and enter the combined self-employment tax on Schedule T, line 16.

Community Income

For the purpose of computing net earnings from self-employment, if any of the income from a trade or business including farming is community income, all the income from such trade or business is considered the income of the husband. However, if the wife exercises substantially all the management and control of operation, all of such income is considered the income of the wife. (See "Partnerships" below.)

If separate returns are filed, Schedules C and SE or Schedules F and SE must be attached to the return of the one with self-employment income. Community income included on such schedules must, however, be allocated for income tax purposes on the basis of the community property laws.

Partnerships

In computing his combined net earnings from self-employment, a partner should include his entire share of such earnings from a partnership including any guaranteed payments. No part of that share may be allocated to the partner's wife (or husband) even though the income may, under State law, be community income. However, in the case of a husband and wife farm partnership, like other partnerships, the distributive share of each must be entered as partnership income in separate Schedule E, Part III for income tax purposes, and on Schedule SE, Part II, line 1(b) for self-employment tax purposes. (Report nonfarm partnership income on Part III, line 1(c) for social security purposes.)

Note.—If a member of a continuing partnership dies, a portion of the deceased partner's distributive share of the partnership's ordinary income (or loss) for the taxable year of the partnership in which he died must be included in the partner's net earnings from self-employment.

Optional Method for Computing Net Earnings From Farm Self-Employment

If a farmer's gross profits for the year from farming are not more than $2,400 he may report two-thirds of his gross profits from farming instead of his actual net earnings from farming. If his gross profits from farm self-employment are more than $2,400 and his actual net earnings from farming are less than $1,600, he may report $1,600. For the optional method, a partner should compute his share of gross profits from a farm partnership in accordance with the partnership agreement. In the case of guaranteed payments, his share of the partnership's gross profits is his guaranteed payments plus his share of the gross profits after such gross profits are reduced by all guaranteed payments of the partnership.

Share-Farming Arrangements

An individual who undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on land belonging to another for a proportionate share of the crop or livestock produced, or the proceeds thereof, is considered to be an independent contractor and a self-employed person rather than an employee. His net earnings should be reported on Schedule F for income tax and on Schedule SE for self-employment tax purposes.

General Instructions

This schedule must be attached to your Form 1040 to choose the benefits of income averaging. Only individuals who are citizens or residents of the United States throughout 1969 are eligible for averaging. Corporations, estates and trusts do not qualify.

The income averaging method of computing tax may be to your advantage if your income has increased substantially this year. Under this method your 1969 income which exceeds by one-third the income of your four prior years (1965-1968) is taxed, in effect, by averaging that excess over the five-year period (1965-1969). Basically, the taxable income for each year is the figure utilized. However, since capital gains, wagering income, certain income from gifts, etc., are not subject to averaging, adjustments to the taxable income, as it appears on Form 1040 for each year, are necessary.

A. WHO MAY FILE.—Generally, you may choose the provisions of income averaging for 1969, by filing Schedule G with your Form 1040 if you meet the requirements of (1) citizenship or residence, and (2) support. On a joint return both husband and wife must meet the requirements.

(1) Citizenship or residence requirement.—You must have been a citizen or resident of the United States throughout 1969. A nonresident alien at any time during the five taxable year period ending with 1969 is not eligible.

(2) Support requirement.—You must have furnished at least 50 percent of your own support for each of the years 1965 through 1968. In a year in which you were married it is only necessary that you together with your wife provided at least 50 percent of the support of both of you. For definition of support see Form 1040 Instructions on B-2.

Exceptions. The support requirement is waived if—

(1) You were age 25 or more before the end of 1969 and you were not a full-time student during at least any four of your taxable years beginning after you have attained the age of 21. Thus, generally, if you are age 25 or over and have been out of school for 4 years since age 21, you are eligible for averaging. You are a student for a taxable year if during 5 calendar months of that year you were a full-time student at an educational institution or were pursuing a full-time course of institutional on-farm training under the supervision of an accredited agent of an educational institution or of a State or political subdivision of a State.

(2) More than 50 percent of your adjusted taxable income for 1969 (line 7, column (a), Part I) is attributable to work performed by you in substantial part during two or more of the four taxable years preceding 1969, or

(3) You file a joint return for 1969 and not more than 25 percent of the aggregate adjusted gross income (Form 1040, line 15c) is attributable to you.

B. PROVISIONS INAPPLICABLE.—If you file Schedule G you may not—

(1) Exclude from income any part of your earned income from sources without the United States (see section 911 and Form 2555) or any income from sources within possessions of the United States (see sections 931-934 and Form 4563).

(2) Use the tax tables on T-2 and T-3, of the Form 1040 instructions. You may, however, use the standard deduction.

(3) Avail yourself of the limitation on tax under section 72(n)(2) for income resulting from certain distributions from an employees' trust.

C. BASE PERIOD INCOME RULES.—Your base period income for each of your base period years (1965-1968) must be determined in a manner consistent with your return for 1969. If you make a separate return for 1969, you must determine your separate base period income for each of your base period years. If a husband and wife make a joint return for 1969, they must determine the sum of their separate base period incomes for each base period year. Thus, if you and your wife make a joint return for 1969 and were married and made joint returns with each other for any base period year, your base period income for each such year is to be figured on the basis of your aggregate taxable income for that year. If you make a return for 1969 as a surviving widow(er) (under section 2(b)), your base period income for each of the base period years (1965-1968) is the sum of your base period income and that of your deceased husband (wife) for each such year. If a husband and wife married in 1969 and make a joint return for 1969, and neither person was married from 1965 through 1968, their base period incomes for each of those years is the sum of the husband's separate base period income and that of his wife for each such year.

In some cases the computation of your separate base period income for a base period year may require as many as three computations. The facts in each case determine how many computations are necessary. For instance, if you were married for 1969 and made a joint return with your wife (husband), but had a different wife (husband) for 1969 than for a base period year, two computations are necessary. In such case, your separate base period income for the year in question is the larger of the following amounts:

(1) The amount of your adjusted separate income and deductions for the base period year.

(2) One-half the total amount of base period income resulting from adding your adjusted separate income and deductions to the adjusted separate income and deductions of your wife (husband) for that base period year.

However, if you and your wife file separate returns for 1969, a third computation is necessary. Your separate base period income will be the largest of the amounts determined under (1) and (2) above and:

(3) One-half the total amount of the base period income resulting from adding your adjusted separate income and deductions to the adjusted separate income and deductions of your wife (husband) for 1969 for that base period year.

The amount of your separate income and deductions for a base period year is the excess of your gross income for that year over your allowable deductions. Your separate deductions for any base period year for which you made a separate return are the deductions allowable on that return. If you made a joint return for a base period year, your separate deductions are (1) in the case of deductions allowable in computing your adjusted gross income, the sum of such deductions attributable to your gross income, and (2) in the case of deductions allowable in computing taxable income (exemptions and itemized deductions), the amount resulting from multiplying the amount of such deductions allowable on the joint return by a fraction whose numerator is your adjusted gross income and whose denominator is the aggregate adjusted gross income on the joint return. However, if 85 percent or more of the aggregate adjusted gross income of a husband and wife is attributable to either one, all of the deductions allowable in computing taxable income are allowable to the one to whom such income is attributable. See specific instruction 1, under Part I, on adjusted gross income.

In computing your separate base period income when community property laws are applicable, you must take into account all of the earned income you earned, without regard to the community property laws, or your share of the community earned income under the community property laws, whichever is greater.

If you must determine your separate base period income for any of the base period years, show the computation and give names under which the returns were filed in the space provided on page 2. If additional space is needed show your computation on an attachment. An example illustrating such computation follows:

H and W are calendar year taxpayers who were married and otherwise eligible to choose the benefits of income averaging for the taxable year 1969 for which they made a joint return. W, however, was married to and made a joint return with A for the taxable year 1965. H was unmarried for 1965. H and W compute their base period income for 1965 in the following manner:

	A & W (Joint Return)	A	W	H
Salary . . . . .	$16,000	$11,500	$4,500	$3,000
Dividends . . . . .	2,000	500	1,500	1,000
Adjusted Gross Income . . . . .	$18,000	$12,000	$6,000	$4,000
Total of itemized deductions and personal exemptions . . . . .	3,600	2,400	1,200 (1)	1,600
Taxable Income (Separate Income and Deductions) . . . . .	$14,400	$9,600	$4,800	$2,400

W's separate base period income is $7,200, the larger of the two methods. H and W's base period income (since there are no adjustments) for 1965 is $9,600 (H's separate base period income of $2,400 (unmarried in 1965) plus W's separate base period income of $7,200).

SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS

The following instructions are numbered to correspond with the line numbers in each part of the form.

Part I

1 Except as noted below, enter on this line the amount (never less than zero) from—

- (a) Schedule T (1969)—line 5
- (b) Form 1040 (1965-68)—line 11d, page 1
- (c) Form 1040A (1965-68)—line 5, page 4

Schedule Form
1040A Instructions

For any year for which you use the tax tables to compute your tax, you may arrive at the amount to be entered in line 1, by subtracting from your adjusted gross income (see below) the standard deduction and $600 multiplied by the number of exemptions. Adjusted gross income is—

- (a) Form 1040 (1969)—line 15c
- (b) Form 1040 (1965-68)—line 9, page 1
- (c) Form 1040A (1965-68)—item 7, page 1

NOTE: If you were not married to and did not file a joint return with the same wife (husband) for every year after 1964, or were not single for all those years, it will be necessary to determine the amount to be entered in columns (b), (c), (d), and (e) in accordance with General Instruction C.

2 Enter on this line for each base period year the net amount of income previously excluded from income because it was earned income derived from sources without the United States or from income within its possessions (sections 911 and 931-934). For 1969 you may not exclude such amounts from gross income and they will therefore be reflected in taxable income.

3 If any amount entered in line 1, columns (b), (c), (d), and (e) is an amount determined under Base Period Income Rules (General Instruction C) then the capital gain net income for the same year must be determined using the same method that was used for that year in line 1.

4 You must enter for all years certain amounts of income attributable to interests in property which were received, during 1969, or any base period year (1965 through 1968), as a gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance, but only if the amount of such net income for 1969 exceeds $3,000. (If the property was received prior to 1965 no entry is required.) If you have an interest in more than one piece of property, the income to be taken into account is the sum of the incomes (losses) for the year from each piece of property. If the adjustment is required for 1969 (because it exceeds $3,000), then an entry for this item must be made for all the base period years for income (disregard any net loss(es)) in those years attributable to gifts, etc., received during the base period even though such income for any of these years does not exceed $3,000. Unless you establish the actual amount of net income attributable to an interest in property for all the years 1965 through 1969, the amount of net income is deemed to be 6 percent of the fair market value of such interest on the date of its receipt for all such years.

The above rules do not, however, apply to income attributable to gifts, bequests, devises, or inheritances between husband and wife if they file a joint return for 1969 (including a joint return filed by a survivor with his deceased wife (husband) for 1969), or if one of them files a return as a surviving widow(er) for 1969. The rules do apply where the property transferred was received by the transferor husband (wife) from a third party in any of the years 1965 through 1969, as a gift, bequest, devise, or inheritance.

- (a) Wagering income. The amount which is attributable to the excess of gains over losses from wagering transactions.

(b) Income from oil and gas properties. The amount received from the sale of any oil or gas property to which section 632 applies.

(c) Claims against the United States. The amount received from the United States to which section 1347 applies.

(d) Excess Community Income. If you are married, a resident of a community property state, and file a separate return for 1969, you must include in this line the excess of the community earned income reportable by you over the amount of such income attributable to your services. No adjustment need be made where the community earned income attributable to your services exceeds 50 percent of the aggregate community earned income. The following example illustrates this.—

	Attributable to Service of
	H	W	Total
Community Earned Income . . . .	$40,000	$20,000	$60,000

(1) H filing a separate return has no adjustment since the amount of earned income attributable to his services ($40,000) exceeds 50 percent of the aggregate community earned income ($60,000).

(2) W filing a separate return must include in the total for this line $10,000, the excess of the community earned income reportable by her ($30,000) over the amount of community earned income attributable to her services ($20,000).

(e) Certain amounts received by owner-employees. The amount of income resulting from a premature or excessive distribution from a qualified employees' pension plan or trust to an employee who is (or was) also an owner of the business. The amount of such income is the amount subject to a penalty under section 72(m)(5).

Part II

3(a). Generally, the entry on this line is one-fourth of the sum of the capital gain net income in line 3, columns (b), (c), (d), and (e), Part I. However, capital gain net income for any base period year may not exceed the base period income (line 7, columns (b), (c), (d), and (e), Part I) for such year computed without reduction by the capital gain net income for such year. Line 6, Part I, indicates whether the adjustment for any year is necessary. If any of the amounts on line 6 in columns (b), (c), (d), and (e) are less than zero, then for that year add lines 3 and 6. If the resulting sum is less than zero your capital gain net income for such year is zero. The following examples will illustrate this.—

Example (1)—	Column (b), Part I
Line 3 . . . . .	$100
Line 6 . . . . .	(670)

Capital gain net income for this year for purposes of computing entry for line 3(a), Part II . . . . . zero

Example (2)—
Line 3 . . . . .	$2000
Line 6 . . . . .	(1300)

Capital gain net income for this year for purposes of computing entry for line 3(a), Part II . . . . . $700

Parts IV and V

To figure your tax use the tax rate schedules on T-1 of the instruction booklet for Form 1040.

Form 1040-ESU.S. Treasury Department
Internal Revenue ServiceDeclaration of Estimated Income Tax for Individuals*1969*New Method for Making a Declaration of Estimated Tax for Individuals

The Internal Revenue Service has adopted new procedures for making declarations of estimated tax and paying installments due. These procedures will make it easier for taxpayers to comply with the requirements of the law. As in the past, taxpayers will continue to figure their estimated tax and their estimated tax payments. However, the Service will not send periodic statements of taxes due. Instead taxpayers will forward their payments with the declaration-voucher as the installments become due.

How to use the Declaration-Voucher

Follow these steps:

1. Fill out the worksheet on page 2 to figure your estimated tax for 1969.
2. Enter your social security number, name and address on the voucher. (If available, the top part of the label from your income tax return booklet should be attached to the name and address area of your first declaration voucher.)
3. Enter the amount shown on line 12 of the worksheet on line 1 of the voucher.
4. Enter the amount shown on line 15 of the worksheet on line 2 of the voucher.
5. Sign the voucher and detach at perforations.
6. Attach check or money order to the voucher and mail to the address shown in instruction 4. Then fill in Record of Estimated Tax Payments schedule on page 2.

For each later installment (line 13 of the worksheet less any overpayment credit applicable to the installment) enter your payment on line 2 of the voucher, attach remittance and mail. However, if you must amend your estimate, then:

1. Fill out the Amended Computation schedule on page 2.
2. Enter the revised amounts of estimated tax and payment on the related voucher.
3. Sign the voucher, detach at perforations and mail with required payment.

Estimated Tax for Individuals

NOTE—Some taxpayers find it convenient to increase their withholding tax to avoid filing declarations. If you do so, make sure your balance due on Form 1040 will be less than $40.

1. Purpose of declaration-vouchers.—The declaration-vouchers are provided for paying currently any income tax (including the tax surcharge) and self-employment tax due in excess of the tax withheld. Therefore, declarations are required only from individuals whose wages or other income exceed the amounts specified in instruction 2. In general, the definitions of income, deductions, exemptions, etc., are the same as those on Form 1040.

2. Who must make a declaration.—Under the law every citizen of the United States or resident of the United States, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam, and American Samoa shall make a declaration of his estimated tax if his total estimated income tax (including the tax surcharge) and self-employment tax exceeds his withholding (if any) by $40 or more and he:

(a) can reasonably expect gross income to exceed—

(1) $10,000 for a head of household or a widow or widower entitled to the special tax rates;

(2) $5,000 for other single individuals;

(3) $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint declaration;

(4) $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint declaration, and the combined income of both husband and wife can reasonably be expected to exceed $10,000; or

(b) can reasonably expect to receive more than $200 from sources other than wages subject to withholding.

A nonresident alien who is required to file a declaration of estimated income tax must use Form 1040-ES(OIO).

3. When to file declaration.—Your declaration must be filed on or before April 15, 1969, or such later date as is specified in instructions 6 and 7.

5. Payment of estimated tax.—Your estimated tax may be paid in full with the declaration, or in equal installments on or before April 15, 1969, June 15, 1969, September 15, 1969, and January 15, 1970. The first installment must accompany the declaration. Make check or money order payable to "Internal Revenue Service." Please write your social security number on your check or money order.

6. Farmers and fishermen.—If at least two-thirds of your gross income is from farming or fishing, you may file the declaration on or before January 15, 1970, instead of April 15, 1969. If you wait until January 15, 1970, you must then pay the entire amount of the estimated tax. However, if you file your final tax return on or before February 15, 1970, and pay the total tax at that time, you need not file a declaration for 1969.

7. Changes in income, exemptions, etc.—Even though your situation on April 15 is such that you are not required to file, your circumstances may change so that you will be required to file a declaration later. In such case the time for filing is as follows: June 15, if the change occurs after April 1 and before June 2; September 15, if the change occurs after June 1 and before September 2; January 15, 1970, if the change occurs after September 1. The estimated tax may be paid in equal installments on the remaining payment dates.

If by January 31, 1970, you file your 1969 income tax return and pay in full the balance of tax due, then on or before January 15, 1970, you need not—(a) file any required amended declaration; (b) file an original declaration which would be due for the first time on January 15, 1970; or (c) pay the last installment of estimated tax.

8. Amended declaration.—Use the Amended Computation schedule on page 2 if, after having filed a declaration, you find that your estimated tax is substantially increased or decreased. Show the amended estimated tax on line 1 of the next declaration-voucher filed.

9. Fiscal year.—If your return is not on a calendar year basis, change all dates to correspond with your fiscal year. Use Form 1040-FY 1969-70 as a guide to estimate your surcharge.

10. Additional charge for failure to pay estimated income and self-employment tax.—An additional charge of 6% a year is imposed by law for underpayment of installments of estimated tax except in certain situations. The charge does not apply if each installment is paid on time and (a) is at least 80 percent (66⅔% for farmers and fishermen) of the amount due, or (b) is based on a tax (including surcharge) computed by using your income for last year and this year's tax rates and exemptions. For additional exceptions in unusual cases see Form 2210. Farmers and fishermen see Form 2210F.

Please note:

We will not send you bills for the estimated tax installments as we have in the past.

A married person with income less than her (his) own personal exemption(s) should file a joint return with husband or wife to get the smaller tax or larger refund. To assure any benefit of the split-income provisions, a married couple should file a joint income tax return.

FORM W-2 U.S. Treasury Department, Internal Revenue Service

TO EMPLOYER:

1. Prepare this form for each employee (a) from whom income tax has been withheld during the year or (b) whose wages (including tips reported), for purposes of income tax withholding, exceeded the amount of one withholding exemption for any payroll period (even though no income tax was withheld). If "other compensation" plus wages, if any, of $600 or more is paid to an employee in the year, Copy A of Form W-2 must be furnished to the Internal Revenue Service, even though no wages are subject to income tax withholding.

2. Fill in—(a) Your identification number, name, and address.

(b) The amount of income tax deducted and withheld. If no amount was deducted and withheld enter "None" or "0."

(c) Total wages paid and tips reported before any payroll deductions. Payments of "sick pay" and non-cash remuneration are considered wages. If an employer keeps the records described in Circular E he may also enter amounts of excludable sick pay in the space adjacent to "Total F.I.C.A. wages paid in 1969." Any amount of sick pay shown in the space should be identified by the words "Excludable sick pay."

(d) Other compensation. This block should include all other compensation (amounts includible in gross income but not subject to income tax withholding) paid to an employee.

(e) Total amount of F.I.C.A. employee tax (not the employer tax) deducted and withheld, if any (but if there was an adjustment in 1969 to correct the tax for a prior year enter the amount withheld in 1969 increased by the adjustment for an overcollection or decreased by the adjustment for an undercollection). If F.I.C.A. wages were paid or tips reported but no employee tax was deducted, enter "None" or "0."

(f) Total wages paid and tips reported (before payroll deductions) subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. Non-cash remuneration is considered wages. If not subject to F.I.C.A., enter "None" or "0." No F.I.C.A. wage entry need be made if (1) F.I.C.A. wages exactly equal the total wages for income tax withholding purposes, or (2) F.I.C.A. wages are $7,800 and the total wages for income tax withholding purposes exceed $7,800.

(g) Uncollected employee tax on tips. See Circular E for instructions.

(h) The employee's social security number, name, and address.

(i) State and local government employers who have been assigned an identification number with the prefix 69 should also show this number.

3. Give copies B and C to the employee (a) on or before January 31 following the calendar year if the employee is in your employ at the close of such year, or (b) within 30 days after the last payment of wages, if his employment is terminated before the close of such year.

4. Forward Copy A to the Internal Revenue Service. For further information see Form 941 and Circular E. Farmers, see Circular A.
